Forgotten Man Now Gets Hope

Stressing the fact that the splendid farmers' social and economic organization built up in earlier days by men of vision, had been destroyed by scheming politicians who had little or no interest in real farming but who sought only to obtain office and lucrative jobs therefrom, W. R. Howson, K.C., Alberta Liberal leader, in a radio address on Thursday night, pledged the Liberal party to "energetically and definitely assist farming by a reorganization of the agriculture department to give efficient leadership in all branches of farming."

Mr. Howson's address was directed to that "forgotten man" of the Alberta economic structure—the farmer—the producer who had elected a "farmers' government" which had promptly passed him up in its considerations.

With forceful, direct language, easily understandable and without ambiguity or attempt at camouflage the Alberta Liberal leader brought to the farming population of this province a message of hope for the future—hope that if they swing their support to Liberal policies on August 22, they would once more enjoy a return to those days of 1929 and earlier when this province, as well as the entire west enjoyed, under Liberal government at Ottawa, an era of unprecedented prosperity.

The message struck a responsive chord. In meeting places, in homes and wherever little groups congre-about his emperor without discovering that is the subject on which he has no sense of humor. The cartoon below, published in an American magazine, has got the Japanese sputtering with indignation. It is one of those "things that never will happen" cartoons, and was published just as good clean fun. But the Japanese don't josh their ruler, and to them it's a serious insult to the sacred person of Hirohito.

PLANE MISHAP SHOCKS ITALY

ROME, Aug. 9.—Italy, shocked by news of the destruction of one of its most modern airplanes and the death of Public Works Minister Luigi Razza, applied itself with undiminished zeal today toward perfection of its military power.

The disaster to the tri-motored craft which crashed on an Egyptian desert Wednesday night while on an inspection flight to Eritrea, killing seven persons, was viewed with particular concern since the plane was of the type designated for East African service.

The death of Raimondo Franchetti, 46, in the accident, deprived Italy of the services of an invaluable expert on East African geography.

Alberta Liberal Leader Addresses Two Bumper Meetings at Hill Spring and Glenwood.

CARDSTON, Aug. 9.—In this arid section of southern Alberta, where Belly river water is diverted by United irrigation district ducts over 50,000 lush crop acres, W. R. Howson, Alberta Liberal leader, addressed two bumper meetings on Thursday. It is haying time, but almost the entire population of Hill Spring hovered pitchforks in the afternoon to attend the Liberal rally at the church, and at night in Glenwood, nine miles distant, 250 residents turned the meeting into a gala affair with a fine program of music to garnish a three-hour old-time Liberal rally.

Both Thursday's meetings found the Cardston Liberal candidate, D. O. Wight, supported by Mayor J. Low of this city and L. S. Turcotte, young barrister, introducing the Liberal chief to enthused bevies of irrigation farmers whose problems are great.

What the Liberal party had to offer the agriculturist was the preponderant theme of all speeches, and constant applause as the various proposals and pledges were enunciated, attested to the favorable impression created by the leader who hit right at the heart of existing local evils and grievances to which he pledged his efforts for correction.

Appointments Considered By Cabinet and Recommendations Made

OTTAWA, Aug. 9.—Late this afternoon the prime minister will announce his new appointments. The absence of the governor general from the capital, coinciding with the fact that his deputy administrator is also out of town, is responsible for delay in announcing.

ETHIOPIA NOW TURNS TO EAST FOR MUNITIONS

Official to Leave for Japan To Seek Credit For Materials

ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 9.—Daba Birrou, former foreign office official, left for Japan today accompanied by an unidentified Japanese on a secret mission.

It was reported without confirmation the mission had to do with the purchase of arms and ammunition from the Japanese.

A reliable source said Birrou would establish the first Ethiopian consulate in Japan, probably at Tokyo.

ADDIS ABABA, Aug 9—Developments in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute lent strength Thursday to the growing belief Emperor Haile Selassie is turning to the Orient for munitions the rest of the world thus far has denied him.

Daba Birrou, a former foreign office official, will leave soon for Japan on an unannounced secret mission, which was believed connected with getting credit for munitions and foodstuffs for Ethiopia's forces.

Coupled with this development, was a report (officially confirmed in Tokyo) that Japan would shortly establish a legation here.

All the war minister's available supplies were doled out to troops passing through Addis Ababa a fortnight ago. Other troops are being concentrated outside the capital while Haile Selassie and his counselors desperately comb the world for credit and equipment.

50,000 Being Allotted To Edmonton—Poll Officials Appointed

Calgary will have the largest number of ballots available in the provincial general election of Aug. 22, with 80,000, while this city will have the next largest number with 50,000, John D. Hunt, chief electoral officer declared on Friday.

There are 50,000 names on the Calgary voters list and 48,000 here, but a surplus is always provided.

The next largest constituency drops down to 8,000 ballots.

In all 400,000 ballots are being prepared under Mr. Hunt's direction, although the number on the voters' list totals about 300,000. Already 200,000 ballots have been sent out to various constituencies where the number of candidates and voters has been determined.

Crop Prospects Grow Smaller

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Aug. 9.— Farmers in the Lethbridge district of southern Alberta will harvest an average of ten bushels of wheat to the acre, it was estimated today following a survey made by the Lethbridge Herald.

It was estimated 20,000,000 bushels of wheat will be harvested, and with 2,000,000 taken out for feed and seed reserves, there will be 18,000,000 bushels for marketing. This is 8,000,000 bushels less than was actually marketed last year.

EX-SOLDIER IS AGAINST PLAN OF ABERHART

Says Social Credit Scheme Not Equitable to Family Man

Seven reasons in the form of seven healthy children, all under the age of 21 years, are the reasons why G. Murray, ex-serviceman now farming in the Vermilion district will not support the Aberhart Social Credit scheme when he goes to the polls on August 22.

With prices of farm products at a low level Murray, with the other farmers of the province, has had a hard struggle to get along. But he still can't see the Aberhart plan under its present set-up.

"Why should the dividends be paid only to persons over 21?" he asked a Bulletin reporter.

The reporter didn't know, so Mr. Murray proceeded to give his opinions of the whole Social Credit theory with considerable gusto.

"To my way of thinking it's the kids who have to go to school and be fed and clothed by the parents for years that should receive the monthly dividends," he said.

"Close to me lives an older man with his wife and five grown children, all over the age of 21. Under the Aberhart plan this family would receive $175 a month in dividends. His children are all able to support themselves. I would receive only $30 a month for myself and the wife, and I'd have to look after my seven children. How come, Mr. Aberhart?"

Mr. Roosevelt, who is honorary national president of the boy scouts, was himself a victim of infantile paralysis 14 years ago.

Ethiopia Turns Down British Enlistments

STEVENS RAPS HUGE MERGERS OF LATE YEARS

Discusses Need for Adequate Housing at Meeting in Kimberley

KIMBERLEY, B. C., Aug. 9.—Into the silver mining area of his East Kootenay constituency Hon. H. H. Stevens, Reconstruction party leader, came Thursday. Motoring from Golden, where he spoke Wednesday night, Mr. Stevens reached here just in time for the night meeting. His audience was made up largely of men and women dependent on the mining industry.

Referring to great mergers which had come into being in recent years, Mr. Stevens said that highly efficient pulp and paper companies had been gathered in by great captains of finance—Sir Herbert Holt and the Wood Gundy interests among others, and now nearly all were in bankruptcy or the hands of a receiver.

At Kimberley Mr. Stevens asserted that owing to the fact large business and financial interests contributed to the campaign funds of the old parties both were influenced to some degree by the wishes of these interests. There was nothing of this in the new party. He told of receiving a $1.00 donation from a poor supporter accompanied by a letter of encouragement. "I valued it more than I would $25,000 from St. James street," said Mr. Stevens.

"I wrote Mr. Bennett about sweat shop conditions in Canada. I told him about them long before it broke about them. Nothing was done."

Revelations of the price spreads commission had "appalled" the people of Canada. "I admit that the people are inclined to forget them. But I haven't forgotten them. I'm not going to forget them.

New rules must be made to apply to new conditions in Canada. "Wherever pressure is brought to bear it is on the workers because wages are the easiest things to reduce," Mr. Stevens asserted. "It is a senseless thing to keep on paying $100,000,000 or $200,000,000 a year to unemployed men who are kept idle," said Mr. Stevens. He advocated getting them to work.

Transferable Vote To Beat Aberhart Jamieson Claims

The transferable ballot will defeat the Aberhart Social Credit party in the forthcoming provincial elections, Col. F. C. Jamieson, K.C., one of the city Conservative candidates, predicted Friday.

Col. Jamieson has just returned from a speaking tour of the Lloydminster district.

"Social Credit will poll a large first choice vote, but will receive no help at all from supporters of other parties in the way of second or third choices," the colonel told a Bulletin reporter.

POLICE CHIEF GETS SHOCK IN LETTER BOX

Warned of Dire Doings in Alberta if Social Credit Loses

Is this election getting tough or is it getting tough?

Ask Chief of Police A. G. Shute.

In this morning's mail the chief spotted a large envelope, very nicely addressed in a woman's handwriting. Being nothing if not gallant the chief opened it first of all his morning mail, and here's what the little billet doux said:

"Chief of Police:

"I have heard conversation that convinces me that the English with their allies the Indians, Chinese, Jews and others of different nationalities are planning to practically drive Canadians out of Alberta if Social Credit does not win.

"I will tell you what I believe to be true.

"That the police are behind them with machine guns, airplanes, gas bombs, perhaps death ray apparatus.

"They have thousands of dollars of capital.

"They have a secret code over the radio. Holy City is Edmonton—King means King of England—forward is to continue preparations, etc.

"They have hundreds of pounds of butter, vegetables and other food stored so they can starve the Canadians.

"That nearly all the women on relief will vote S.C. That there is an Englishman who takes their signal or pass-word as they pass him to go upstairs.

"That those who do not vote S.C. will lose their churches, stores, offices, etc. The University hospital will all be run by those belonging to S.C. only.

"That they have already chosen their city officers to the Lord Mayor. It will be entirely English. That Aberhart will be Dictator till their rule is established.

"They are so sure of their success they do not even consider defeat.

"According to the hymn all will be well for those who obey English Domination here but God have mercy on those who do not. Even all professional and business men will have to belong to S.C. to keep their offices or practices."

Chief Shute says he isn't signing up any extra men as a result of the warning.

"I think we can take a chance it won't come off," he said.

AUTO DEALERS CONFER WITH G.M. OFFICIALS

Executives of General Motors See Brighter Prospects

To attend a conference of northern Alberta dealers and key men of the zone personnel, officials of General Motors of Canada, Limited, headed by H. A. Brown, vice-president and general manager, arrived in Edmonton Friday morning. The conference got under way in the Macdonald hotel Friday morning and the day's activities include a special luncheon and dinner.

Accompanying Mr. Brown are C. E. McTavish, general sales manager, R. L. Wiginton, manager of the customer research department and A. O. Heather, Canadian manager for General Motors Acceptance Corporation. These executives following out General Motors byword of the "eye to the future and and ear to the ground" have completed a tour of the Maritimes and the mid west and will end their Dominion-wide survey with their present visit to the far west and the Pacific coast.

BUSINESS IS IMPROVING

Both Mr. Brown and Mr. McTavish referred with satisfaction to the 1935 sales of Canadian motor industry, the large increase over last year being felt from coast to coast. In recent week, the far west has outstripped the eastern provinces in the purchasing of new cars.

"July was a bright month for General Motors," said Mr. Brown, "with factory shipments for the month 40 per cent over those of 1934. Most conspicuous in the General Motors lines was Chevrolet with an increase of exactly 200 per cent."

Oldsmobile and Pontiac both showed up well.

BENNETT MAY FILE HIS LIST NAMES TODAY

seethes with rumors of all Mondays in September, save September 2, which is Labor Day, and there the guessers say September 23, but from sources close to the Prime Minister September 30 is the latest belief.

The early conjectures as to various appointments have met with some revision. As to senatorships, the two New Brunswick vacancies will go to Hon. A. Leger, former provincial member, and B. F. Smith, while Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, defeated premier, will go to the county court as a judge and former Attorney General Harrison will get a supreme court judgeship.

THREE SENATE VACANCIES

There are three senate vacancies in Quebec. J. H. Dussault, a Montreal barrister, is booked for one; Dr. Fortin, member for Levis, will get another, while the third is still in the dark with a hundred applicants. Dr. Fortin may be elevated to the senate, so Hon. Maurice Dupre, present solicitor-general, may have his safe Conservative seat of Levis to run in, Mr. Dupre's present Quebec West seat having become highly unsafe for a Tory.

The Manitoba senatorships may provide a surprise and go to two old veterans: Lt. Col. David Beaubier, M.P. for Brandon and Col. Harry Mullins, M.P. for Marquette. Hon. T. P. Murphy, present minister of the interior, was slated for one, but the proposal created such a furore in the cabinet that Mr. Murphy who is concluding his first term of parliament will have to go back and win his spurs all over again. There was much opposition to the senatorship being handed to a newcomer in the Tory ranks.

GOES TO RAIL BOARD

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, ex-minister of justice, will go to the chairmanship of the board of railway commissioners. R. K. Smith, M.P. (Cumberland) will become deputy minister of marine.

There is still some doubt as to whether T. P. Coolican, acting deputy minister of the post office, and Roy Gibson, acting deputy minister of the interior, will get their promotion. Both were considered certain because of their long experience qualifications and being next in line, but political expediency may cheat them out of it. In such case new appointees may have only temporary office, as Liberals will put Coolican and Gibson in their places.

The wheat board will be announced today, the general forecast being John I. McFarland, chairman, with E. B. Ramsey, chairman of the grain commission Hon. C. M. Hamilton of the Alberta Wheat Pool, as commissioners. If Mr. Ramsey leaves grain ommission Hon. C. M. Hamilton former minister of agriculture in Saskatchewan and now a grain commissioner, may be promoted to the chairmanship.

Apartment Block Will Be Erected At $10,000 Cost

Permit for the construction of a $10,000 two-storey apartment building at 10147 108 street was issued recently by the city building department to R. H. Trouth. The apartment will be constructed of reinforced concrete.

Other permits taken out during the past week include: S. L. Olson, frame cottage at 10966 69 avenue, $800; E. Johnson, alteration for suites at 9714 105 street, $800; Jos. Michael, frame dwelling at 11916 77 street, $525; A. E. Long, frame dwelling at 11716 97 street, $3,700; Mrs. A. Hasson, alterations to frame hospitals in the city.

Motor Chiefs From Oshawa In Edmonton

H. A. Brown, vice-president and general manager (top) of General Motors and C. E. McTavish, general sales manager, are visitors to this city Friday attending a dealer convention being held for northern Alberta in the Macdonald hotel.

DEALERS AND KEY MEN ARE OPTIMISTIC

All carrying reports of improved business and an even better prospect in view for the early showing of the new 1936 models, dealers and key-men of the sales divisions of General Motors products in northern Alberta, were in conference Friday in the Macdonald hotel.

Present with the dealers were H. A. Brown, vice-president and general manager from the Oshawa factory headquarters of General Motors; A. O. Heather, Toronto, Canadian manager for the General Motors Acceptance Corporation; R. J. Wiginton, manager of the customer research department and C. E. McTavish, general sales manager. Each of the executives were slated to address the field and sales production men working northern Alberta. The parley went on behind closed doors as new features of Oldsmobile, Pontiac and Chevrolet for 1936, are jealously guarded secrets.

Attending the conference are J. C. Ross, Calgary zone manager; C. P. Johnson, zone sales promotion manager; and Gordon Henry, district sales manager.

Dealers in attendance are: Hal Laird of the Laird Motors, Lacombe and the Market Tire, Edmonton; Frank Wolfe of Edmonton Motors; Bob Price of Price Dayton; F. Clare Downing, of Downing Motors, Westlock; Ed. Summerfield and Joe Meyer of Stony Plain; Jack Thompson and Alex Dalgleish of Thompson and Dalgleish Motors, Grande Prairie; Gus Riskie, of Bruderheim Motors; Buster Slieve of the Thomas Garage, Vegreville; D. J. Dixon of Dixon and Hunter, Innisfree; Chris Gotass of Gotass and Moxness, Camrose; Mike Kroening of Lamont; Alex Mitchell of Lamont; Henry Vilner of Camrose; Joe Schriefels of Wetaskiwin; Stanley Duncan and Huntly MacLean of Duncan and MacLean, Ponoka; and Guff Nelson of the Bashaw Garage, Bashaw.

MINERS WILL GET BACK PAY

DRUMHELLER, Aug. 9.—Children of miners employed at Wayne-Rosedeer mine in 1933 who missed their Christmas dinners when the mine went into bankruptcy on December 23 of that year, leaving a wage bill of approximately $14,000 to be met, will be able to make up for their short rations within the next week or ten days. F. C. Moyer, K.C., announced Thursday that he had succeeded in making the necessary arrangements between the receivers and the provincial government to pay fifty per cent of the wages forthwith and the remaining fifty per cent if and when the Wayne school district waives tax arrears claims.

Most of the 130 employees of the company were compelled to go on relief when the pay cheques failed to materialize.

Hospital Patients To Be Given Vote

Alberta elections are warming up, and even the patients in the city hospitals are interested.

Under the Alberta Elections act provision is made that any hospital containing twenty or more bona-fide electors of the province who want to exercise their franchise can request that a poll be established in that hospital.

Already there have been requests from the Royal Alexandra hospital and the Soldiers' ward of the University hospital for polls to be established in those institutions and it is expected that similar requests will be received from the other hospitals in the city.

SAYS RETAIL MERCHANTS TO GO STEVENS

Organizer For Reconstruction Party Now Organizing Here

Fired with enthusiasm and burning with zeal in his organization work for the new Reconstruction party, A. C. MacKay, secretary of the Retail Merchants of Alberta and provincial organizer for the Hon. H. H. Stevens arrived in Edmonton Friday following a whirlwind itinerary through south and central Alberta.

Mr. MacKay brought news that his chief will be in Edmonton on Wednesday, August 14 and will address a mass meeting.

A Stevens club has been organized in the south and Mr. MacKay is making contacts for a similar organization in the north.

Candidates for the new party will be offered by a special committee of each club to the club as a whole, thereby assuring the choice of only the best type of man available to serve in the interests of the public.

SAYS GOING STRONG

"Everywhere I have been, the enthusiasm for Mr. Stevens and the new Reconstruction party has been overwhelming," said Mr. MacKay in revealing that the Retail Merchants of Alberta are behind the ex-minister of the Bennett cabinet.

Mr. MacKay has been "loaned" by the Retail Merchants to work for the Stevens cause.

To illustrate Mr. Stevens' keen desire to cleanse Canada of the eastern sweatshops, Mr. MacKay produced a letter he received this week from his leader in which the new Reconstruction chief says in part, "There exists an unfair competition in manufacturing between eastern and western Canada. You have the most vicious type of sweat shop conditions in the east competing with fair and honest wages and treatment in the west. This I know positively can be rectified and if I get a chance to do so, it will be rectified mighty promptly."

that gigantic military manoeuvres to be held near the Brenner Pass be kept secret, following unconfirmed reports Italy has made great strides in developing offensive weapons hitherto unknown.

More than 500,000 men will take part in the war drills, to be held some time this month along the serried Alpine range.

"No form of newspaperman will be allowed," said his spokesman.

Italy Acquires Canadian Ships

LONDON, Aug. 9.—A special correspondent of the Star last night reported Premier Mussolini, who has for some time been organizing a large fleet of troopships for his African program by commandeering Italian vessels and buying British and other foreign liners, has now acquired two well-known Canadian Pacific liners—the Minnedosa and the Melita. Three German vessels also have been purchasd.

The Canadian Pacific vessels were sold in London early in the year to a Genoese firm of shipbreakers. Soon afterwards three North German Lloyd craft, the 11,000-ton Sierra Ventana and the Sierra Cordoba, and the 9,000-ton Werra, were also bought ostensibly for breaking up.

CENOTAPH PLANS ARE DISCUSSED

Enthusiastic in every way, members of the Citizens' Cenotaph committee met at the Canadian Legion Memorial Hall on Thursday night under the chairmanship of A. E. Nightingale to further discuss plans for the drive to raise funds for erection of a memorial to the war dead of this city.

The "big push" for funds will be staged in September and the committee is hopeful that the Cenotaph will be erected in time for next Remembrance Day services.

A general discussion of plans took place, after which a sub-committee of eight was struck.

This committee will meet at the office of the treasurer, Campbell Fraser, manager of the Dominion Bank on Tuesday evening next and a report on ways and means will be presented at the next general meeting at the Memorial hall next Thursday.

Liberals Lead In Nominating Filing

Liberals lead the parade again.

George H. Van Allen, K.C., one of the six Liberal candidates in the provincial general election was the first candidate contesting the Edmonton constituency to file nomination papers with H. H. Crawford, returning offier.

There are between 20 and 25 names on the papers in support of Mr. Van Allen's nomination.

F. Armour Ford, barrister is named by Mr. Van Allen as his official agent.

NEVER FORGOTTEN EPIC OF BATTLE COMES MONDAY

Mud and filth, carrion death and corruption, trenches almost filled with water and with weary soldiers standing therein day after day—all these things and more are shown in the gripping, thrilling, never-to-be-forgotten epic of Canadian participation in the World War, the picture "Lest We Forget," which comes to the Rialto theatre next Monday for one week. The picture is being shown under the auspices of the Canadian Legion.

The story deals with the deeds of the Canadian Corps from the time the glorious first contingent mobilized at Valcartier and set sail from Gaspe Basin in one of the most impressive armadas ever to sail the seas, until the 49th Battalion, the Edmonton Regiment, marched into Mons on Armistice Day, 1918, to end the war close to the spot where it began for British troops.

"Lest We Forget" is a story of glory and achievement, but it does not glorify war. In plain, direct language, it tells of the Canadian defence of Ypres, sacred spot of the Allies and centre of that small part of Belgium kept from the Germans. It tells of how the Canadian Corps, in one of the most amazing attacks of the war, captured Hill 70, which had been the objective of Kitchener's army at Loos. It shows how the Canadian divisions, in line, swept up and over the crest of Vimy Ridge, the most impregnable fortress on the western front, which hitherto had defied all efforts at capture.

It also shows the British navy in action, with Sturdee sweeping half way round the world with his battle cruisers to annihilate Von Spee's marauding ships, which had fallen upon the luckless Craddock's squadron off Coronel.

These are some of the thrilling scenes depicted in this picture—not a Hollywood production, but made up of "shots" actually taken in battle and on the scene.

Visitor Charges Thugs Beat Him

Story that he was lured out of the city only to be beaten up was told by Alex Petro to city police early Friday morning, as he lay in the Royal Alexandra hospital.

First notification of the fracas came when Armor Menzies of the Strand hotel, Calder, phoned police to say that a man had come in about midnight, covered with blood and badly cut.

Taken to hospital he said that he had come in from Camp 53, stayed at a rooming house on 101 street, had been picked up last night by a man who drove out to another man's place on 127 street, beyond the city limits. There he was beaten up and walked back to town, reaching the Strand hotel.

Charges will likely be laid against the two men whom he named as his assailants.

Expect Hail Does 25 Per Cent. Hurt To Alberta Crops

Estimate of hail damage done in Alberta has not been made by provincial government officials. Queried as to the Dominion government estimate of 400,000 acres damaged by hail, O. S. Longman, field crops commissioner stated he had no comment to make.

Asked what the normal damage over a year was, Mr. Longman remarked that it usually averaged about 25 per cent on the basis of 1,000,000 acres. This was not an abnormal year so far as damage was concerned and 25 per cent of 1,000,000 acres would be 250,000.

Mr. Longman expected it would be 10 days before cutting commenced. Crops will be short in the south, owing to lack of proper conditions.

League Picnic Now Cancelled: To Stage Dance

The community league picnic scheduled for the civic holiday at Borden Park and postponed due to inclement weather was cancelled entirely at a meeting of the picnic committee of the Federation of Community Leagues, Thursday.

PURPOSE OF MEETING TONIGHT TO CONVENE ORGANIZATION

PROVIDE EFFICIENT LEADERSHIP IN ALL FARM BRANCHES

gated the encouraging, constructive message of the Liberal leader to the vast, courageous farming population of this province was listened to with rapt attention.

At the Canadian Legion Memorial Hall where the German-Canadian Liberal Club was sponsoring a rally at which the other five Liberal candidates in Edmonton were speaking, all business was suspended for the period Mr. Howson was on the air.

The address was carried over a province-wide hook-up between Station CJCA of this city and CFCN of Calgary.

SHOULD BE RIGHTED

"The reorganized Liberal party in Alberta since the convention three years ago, at which that reorganization took place, has proceeded on the fundamental principle that where things are wrong they should be righted. Not only that they should be righted but that they must be righted, and they can be righted provided the men placed in charge of the government of the province set about the task with decision and an unflinching determination to act, and to bring about an improvement of conditions," said Mr. Howson.

"This can only be brought about by attacking the special problems that confront our farmers. The present difficulties in agriculture can be cured but not by promoting fantastic ideas that appear good in words, or by painting pictures of tremendous reforms which generally do and have in fact in Alberta proven pure fizzles, which were extremely expensive.

"The Liberal program is to take each division of agriculture separately and remedy its special problem. It was with this object in view that our economic conference were held at which the individual difficulties of the livestock producer, the wheat grower, the dairyman, the beet grower, the irrigation settler and the homesteader were discussed and suggested remedies were considered.

"A Liberal government in Alberta will not make the farmers' organization the tool of politicians and thereby ruin its effectiveness in the social and economic interests of agriculture, but it will assist to a degree unknown in the past in making the U.F.A. a live and virile force to help build up practical agriculture and to help make farming in Alberta the best of callings.

THEY FARMED THE FARMER

"I do not need to tell the real practical farmers of Alberta that their splendid organization so painstakingly built up in the earlier days by those who had vision and desired to convert that vision into practical results, was destroyed by scheming politicians who had little or no interest in real farming but who ought to obtain an office a very lucrative job and who still strive to use the organization to maintain that position for personal benefit.

"Farmers of Alberta, look these over! Are these (bogs U.F.A. politicians done for agriculture? Not only has the parent body of the U.F.A. to its great disadvantage been used for political ends but the same attempt has been made in every organization which has had its object the building up of a specialized department of agriculture.

"The Liberal party pledges itself to assist those who are genuinely interested in and practising agriculture in rebuilding the U.F.A. as a social and economic organization for the practical benefit of agriculturists.

"It pledges itself to definitely support the livestock producers associations in all their branches, the seed-growers, and all kindred organizations with a view only to making farming profitable and thereby helping to build up the homes and the future of this province. There must be no more politics in agricultural organizations but they must and will be assisted and developed with an eye single to the best interests of the farming industry. Too long have we had the department of agriculture administered by one whose interest was political expediency. Let us get back to the practical problems of our farmers and let us solve them.

"Let us look at the Liberal platform for a few minutes and let us particularly look at section one, dealing with agriculture.

IRRIGATION FARMERS:

"Here is one item dealing with the irrigation projects in the south of the province. The Liberal party consulted the farmers living on the irrigated farms and the Liberals believe that these farmers can be assisted.

"By a complete reorganization of the policy affecting the irrigation projects in the south, the settler may have an assurance of building up a future home, and to encourage the development of the sugar-beet industry and all other special lines of agriculture which advantageously be pursued on irrigated lands."

"Not only can this be done but it should have been done years ago if our government had been in any sense a farmers' government. The Liberal party government would that name but forgot the farmer in practice. From now forward let us have less meddling of that kind by farmer and much more beneficial action on his behalf.

"Under the present government's policy in dealing with the farmers on the Lethbridge Northern, the United Irrigation and all the other projects there is not the remotest possibility of those settlers building up and owning a home for life.

"The present policy is designed to and in practice will keep the irrigation farmers in public bondage without the hope for the future. This cannot continue and under a Liberal Government in Alberta will not be allowed to continue. The policy as set out in the platform submitted to you will be adopted and the settlers on the irrigation projects will be given an honest chance of securing homes for themselves.

"Many times during the past years in the Alberta Legislature this has been impressed upon the Liberal government by the Liberal opposition, but it was given a stone-dead reception and again nothing was done. August 22 however will give the irrigation farmers a chance to speak on their own behalf. They will have the opportunity of saying whether or not they desire the present policy to be allowed to continue their benefit. There is a great wrong being done to these irrigation farmers and that wrong must and will be righted.

LIVESTOCK PRODUCERS:

"There was a time in Alberta when stock growers generally enjoyed reasonable prosperity. However, by reason of the changed conditions, the ranchers and others by reason of the failure of our governments to realize these changes and their failure to adapt the governmental regulations to meet these changed conditions, the livestock industry has been allowed to be followed to languish to the unfortunate extent that many of our formerly most prosperous ranchers and smaller producers are now badly crippled.

"Can this not be remedied? Are we to allow this branch of agriculture to fail? Apparently that is and has been the attitude of the Alberta government. No one will dispute the fact that this is another wrong that should be righted. The Liberal platform says that it can be.

"By changing the regulations affecting grazing and hay lands to make them advantageous to the livestock producer, and to further assist him by broadening the livestock markets by fighting for a reduction of tariffs and for advantageous trade agreements relating to the livestock market, especially in Great Britain and the United States, and by legislation to regulate the packers compelling with the producer and farmer in the feeding and finishing branch of the business."

"This section of the Liberal platform is the result of the advice given to the Liberals by the livestock men themselves. It will be carried out and along such lines as are designed to put the livestock producer again on his feet. Can this be done? We all know that Alberta is a natural livestock producing country.

"If our governmental laws and regulations are in accord with the natural laws, we are sure of success and this should be the result of the necessary advantageous changes being made in the regulations affecting the grazing and hay leases in this province.

GRAIN PRODUCERS

"Unquestionably more agriculturists derive their incomes from grain-production than any other source. Outside of markets for all kinds of farm produce and a reduction in transportation rates, which will be dealt with subsequently, what is the special point to be remedied to assist the grain grower? Turn again to the Liberal platform and it says the position of the grain-grower can be improved

"By working for a revision of the system of the grading of grain whereby the producer shall be paid on the basis of use-content, and investigating grain price spreads.

"Why has this not already been done by the Brownlee government? Everyone who has been associated with agriculture knows that this, too, is a wrong that should long ago have been righted. Is there any possible excuse for delay in the matter?

"There is no excuse, but there is a reason, and that is 'drift,' 'inaction,' 'lack of concern for the best interests of the grain-grower.' Here is something definite and advantageous that can and will be done in a country which produces the world's best and most desired wheat should we continue to sell it only by color and bulk? The Liberal party says 'No' and is prepared to carry on an aggressive fight for the benefit of the farmer in this regard.

RESOLUTION QUOTED

"While it does not bear directly on the point in the Liberal platform presently being discussed, yet I would like to quote to you the following Liberal resolution which was proposed in the last session of the Alberta legislature. It does show that the Liberals in opposition were pressing the best interests of the Alberta grain growers and is a strong indication of their future actions. The resolution is:

Mr. Falconer proposed the following motion, to this Assembly, seconded by Mr. Dechene:

Whereas the prosperity of western Canada depends largely on the sale of our grain products; and

Whereas the use of substitutes and cheaper grades of wheat by European countries is decreasing the use of Canadian wheat and the consumption of wheat products; and

Whereas it is desirable to encourage the use of wheat products and particularly the use of a large proportion of Canadian wheat; and

Whereas the increased use of any product is dependent upon the energy expended in the efficient advertising of same, therefore be it

Resolved, that until such time as a National Wheat Board has been established by the government of Canada, the department of trade and industry of the province of Alberta be requested to inaugurate, through the department of trade and commerce of the government of Canada, a complete and comprehensive scheme of advertising in Great Britain, Japan and certain European countries, calculated to bring the superior quality and value of Canadian wheat to that produced in any other part of the world, and the failure to adapt the governmental regulations to meet these changed conditions, the livestock industry has been allowed to be followed to languish to the unfortunate extent that many of our formerly most prosperous ranchers and smaller producers are now badly crippled.

"Can this not be remedied? Are we to allow this branch of agriculture to fail? Apparently that is and has been the attitude of the Alberta government. No one will dispute the fact that this is another wrong that should be righted. The Liberal platform says that it can be.

THE DROUGHT AREA

"I would like to call to the attention of the farmers who reside in what is sometimes referred to as the drought area, the specific item in the Liberal platform which deals with their special problem. Tonight I have time merely to read it:

"By a definite and aggressive policy towards remedying the conditions in those parts of Alberta where water supplies are limited or likely to become limited, by taking immediate steps to conserve and distribute the water resources therein, by preservation of forests and afforestation, the storage of flood waters, the return of water into natural water courses, and natural reservoirs and such other methods as may be necessary or calculated to resist drought encroachment.

"I do wish to say however that whereas in the past there has been only talk about endeavoring to remedy this situation, it is the determination of the reorganized Liberal party to take definite action and to accomplish something of value for those who have so valiantly fought to build up their homes in that part of Alberta.

"It is the plan of the Liberals in Alberta provided they receive the support of the farmers on election day and are given the opportunity to do so to directly, energetically and definitely assist farming by a reorganization of the department of agriculture along lines to give efficient leadership in all branches of farming and in addition to the points to which reference has already been made.

"(a) By obtaining markets for farm produce;

"(b) By fighting for reductions in freight rates;

"(c) By an energetic policy for the eradication of noxious weeds;

"(d) By a complete reorganization of the department in order to direct its efforts to meet the needs of present-day agriculture and to eliminate the waste of money due to the overlapping of the experimental work carried on by the dominion and the provinces;

"(e) By amending the homestead laws to definitely assist the new settler in securing a home for himself and his family, and particularly to relieve the burden placed upon the homesteader in the bush country, and also by amending the laws affecting taxation of homesteads;

"(f) By special attention to the improvement of market roads;

"(g) By dealing effectively with the adjustment of excessive debts both as to principal and interest;

"(h) By a complete revision of the present system of taxation;

"(i) By greater assistance to rural education;

"(j) By the steady development of proper health services;

"(k) By development of communication with the new settlements;

"(l) By regular conferences with Alberta agriculturists dealing specially with their problems.

"(m) By a thorough investigation into the cost of gasoline, oil, farm machinery and other necessities for farming operations;

"(n) By an energetic policy to obtain working capital for agriculturists at reduced rates of interest.

"(k) By development of communication with the new settlements;

"(l) By regular conferences with Alberta agriculturists dealing specially with their problems.

"(m) By a thorough investigation into the cost of gasoline, oil, farm machinery and other necessities for farming operations;

"(n) By an energetic policy to obtain working capital for agriculturists at reduced rates of interest.

"I must say, however, that these things can only be accomplished by the establishment in Alberta of a stable government which will coordinate its efforts with a Liberal Government at Ottawa which will definitely assist in bringing about these necessary changes. It is because the Federal Liberals have agreed to adopt the Alberta Liberal platform that I am asking the farmers of this province to definitely support both the provincial Liberal candidates and the federal Liberal candidates in Alberta. They must work with one accord to obtain results."

Chinese Red Army 500,000 Strong Report

Miss Eva Howard left today with Miss Olive Fisher of Calgary and Miss Ray Chittich for Vancouver, from where they will motor to California, returning early in September.

TEACHERS ARE DISCRIMINATED AGAINST, CLAIM

J. W. Barnett, Edmonton, Addresses Convention in Ottawa

OTTAWA, Aug. 9.—A resolution proclaiming freedom of thought and mental integrity of the school teacher both inside and outside the classroom was discussed last night by delegates to the Canadian Teachers' Federation and references made to the experiences of teachers in Calgary.

John W. Barnett, of Edmonton, secretary of the Alberta Teachers' Association, said discriminations had been practised against teachers in Calgary early this summer. Never in all the annals of education had such unconstitutional procedure been followed, just because teachers dared to express political opinions outside the school, Mr. Barnett stated.

On the action of four out of seven members of the Calgary school board notice was published that all teachers would be dismissed with the option of re-applying for their positions on the pretext that some of the teachers were "dangerous," he said.

The school board contended the teachers needed to be fired and this was the most painless way of dismissing them. Mass action on the part of independent and indignant Calgary citizens restored the teachers their positions. Mr. Barnett said.

An epidemic of attacks against teachers in the United States which had been prevailing for some time as symptomatic in Canada, E. J. Thorlakson, of Calgary, declared. Teachers were being called Bolshevists for expressing their views. "It is time the intellectual integrity of members of our profession was established." The National Education Association of the United States had passed a resolution similar to the one under discussion, he said.

W. R. HOWSON ADDRESSES 2 BIG MEETINGS

finished no doubt existed as to his party's stand upon this issue.

"Those who go about this province preaching a doctrine that this one thing will cure the ills of humanity they are deceiving not only themselves but an unfortunate harassed people whom they deliberately lead astray, dangling pretty butterflies about a sunfringed cloud of pictures so but meaningless phrases. Not that alone but their hysteria is building prejudices and narrow passions which in themselves serve to defeat all effort at problem solution and cheat all sincere and practical effort to bring relief and reconstruction, he said.

Mr. Howson, with clarity, enunciated the sound Liberal monetary reform policy which he described as based soundly upon credit-ability and action, comparing it with Aberhartism, which he dismissed as fallacious, impractical hunkum, having a fictitious $25 basic dividend catch-line as its main but impossible theme.

SLOWLY BLEEDING PROVINCE

Vigorously the leader slashed out at the "wages of money" and the hundred per cent. collection of the bondholders' interest. He called it an octopus having Alberta tightly within its tentacles, slowly bleeding the province of Alberta of all its life-blood provincial revenues in interest charges as necessary grants so all forms of community social and welfare were cut and shaved to a deplorable degree to stuff dividends into the pockets of the rich.

While Mr. Howson delivered his policy upon irrigation problems within the church at Glenwood, radios all over the province were delivering an identical message, not from the Glenwood meeting, but via the modern broadcasting by electrical transcription.

"Our sympathies are with the irrigation district farmers, many of whom don't know today whether they are owners or tenants of their own properties. They with countless others in all parts of the province, came here and settled from other parts in the belief that they were improving their own future and that of the youth they were bringing up. Their present suffering is largely due to the deplorable inactivity, indifference and drift of the misnamed U.F.A. government, and they have now learned to their sorrow that they face ruin and the loss of the homes they built up, unless a very necessary change is made on August 22.

"The Liberal policy upon irrigation is a well devised plan, not a tentative palliative, but a balanced plan for the future giving home protection and security as its keynote. This Liberal policy is not the sole idea of the Liberals who present it, it is built upon the suggestions, ideas and demands of the farmers themselves.

CAREFUL STUDY URGED

Exhorting all hearers to realize the value of a balanced, open mind upon all questions, especially all issues Mr. Howson urged that the Liberal platform be carefully studied from all angles in a spirit free from partisanship rancor and he appealed for application of judgment and sound reason without sentiment or partiality.

Those who are wrong about the province preaching separation of classes and interests were working against the common good of Alberta, he warned. Cooperation for common welfare was essential, and he pointed out that the Liberal platform was founded upon a consolidation of the ideas and pleas of thousands of Albertans representative of all elements of community, social and industrial life.

He urged only that the acid test of reason be applied in a real study of the platform to decide whether it was practical and could be put into practice and whether it would work for the best interests of all the people.

Friday Mr. Howson attends a meeting at Taber.

Lymburn Scores Social Creditite For Allegations

Denunciation of the Social Credit candidate in the Drumheller provincial constituency for alleging that the "Brownlee government" bungled the sale of Alberta lands to the disadvantage of the province, featured an interview with Hon. J. F. Lymburn, K.C., attorney general, on Friday.

"This kind of a statement, if made by a representative of an old line party candidate, would have caused a furore, so coming from an Aberhart candidate, who calls for divine blessing on his cause, it must make the people of this province wonder," said Hon. Mr. Lymburn.

"The facts are that the original tar sands agreement with Max Bell was made by the Liberal government at Ottawa in May of 1930. A new agreement was entered into this year and was made after Mr. Bell appeared before a committee of the legislature. A copy of the agreement was laid on the table of the house and no exception was taken to its terms by anyone. The new agreement, in the light of subsequent developments, was much more favorable than the original as evidenced by the fact that the minimum total payable to the province is $400,000 as against $142,000 in the old agreement.

"Furthermore, the Social Credit man overlooks the fact that the present agreement was made after Mr. Brownlee resigned as premier."

ALBERTA HAS VARIABLE CROP

WINNIPEG, Aug. 9—Discouraging reports come from many districts in the south and south central areas of Manitoba and Saskatchewan due to serious rust damage to Marquis and Ceres wheat but oats and barley crops are not so badly affected. Wheat yields will vary from high outrun good quality samples to crops which are unprofitable to harvest, according to the weekly crop report of the agricultural department, Canadian National Railways.

In Alberta along the Drumheller-Oyen, Stettler, Three Hills, Red Deer subdivisions some yields will be heavy where others will be light. Apart from some damage by grasshoppers and the localities pounded by hail no other damage is apparent. In North Central Alberta all grains are making good progress and filling well as weather has been warm and showery.

From the Peace River zone reports that weather has been cool with heavy rains and grain is well headed out but warm weather is needed to hasten ripening.

Strange Sea Monster Is Washed Ashore

TENERIFE, Aug. 9.—The carcass of a strange sea monster was washed up on the beach at Medano today. The head and a 10-foot back bone remained, the head encrusted and without eyes. It was not related to the whale family, as far as ichthyologists could discover.

Mrs. W. W. Henderson and Miss Pearl Henderson, who have been visiting the former's son, Mr. Russell Henderson and Mrs. Henderson are leaving Friday to return to their home in Medicine Hat.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 9

NO REPORT YET

Since the Honorable the Attorney General agrees that the provincial auditor can get out a report that is both accurate and understandable, what would be the matter with permitting the auditor to get out the statement covering the fiscal year which ended last March?

Sixteen months have elapsed since the year ended for which the official figures are now available. A good deal has happened in the meantime, and the public have a quite legitimate curiosity to know what was the position of the finances at the end of last year. Ancient history is interesting, but it does not give a picture of things as they stand at present, or as they stood four months ago.

Why not release the facts? They may not make cheerful reading, but they can't possibly be bad enough to justify with-holding them.

A NEW MINISTER?

Premier Bennett says he would be "delighted" if Mr. Thomas Bradshaw would accept the portfolio of Minister of Finance, which Hon. E. N. Rhodes is shrewdly discarding for a safe seat in the Senate. That Mr. Bradshaw will be equally delighted at the chance to get appointed mate just in time to go down with the ship is hardly likely. The reason the Ministers are getting out may seem to him a pretty good reason why he should stay out.

If the Bennett Government was going to continue in office, Mr. Bradshaw would be eminently qualified for the post and his appointment strictly in order. Next to a pawn-broker, a representative of the bond-dealers' organization would be the most appropriate selection as Minister of Finance in the "sound money" cabinet, if that cabinet was going to need any Minister of Finance; and Mr. Bradshaw ranks high, deservedly so, in the circles of high finance.

Readers will recall that Mr. Bradshaw was the gentleman sent out a few months ago by the bond interests to Winnipeg, and later to Vancouver, to tell the taxpayers of those cities how they could pull their bells a bit tighter, deny themselves and their families still further, and thus be able to go on paying double interest rates on city bonds.

His appointment as Minister of Finance in the present Government would thus be singularly fitting: a symbol of the monetary policy it is enforcing, and official recognition of what that policy means to the distressed taxpayers of our distressed cities.

ENOUGH IS PLENTY

Mr. Woodsworth, on behalf of the C.C.F., offers the cheering information that there just isn't such thing as foreign markets. They simply "do not exist," he says, and there is no use looking for them.

So, what? Well, the only thinkable alternative is that Canadians should make up their minds to live as a self-contained unit, pretend there are no other nations on earth of any commercial importance to us, produce what we can consume and nothing more. Which is precisely the thing Mr. Woodsworth thinks we ought to do; and in order to do which we should reconstruct our whole economy, on a basis of "production for use, not for profit."

One wonders if Mr. Woodsworth has considered just what such a reconstruction as that would involve, supposing it to be possible. Canadian agriculture has been developed on an export basis. Our manufacturing industry has been built with the same end in view. Our mining development has no meaning and no future aside from export trade. Our debts are largely owed abroad, and cannot be paid in any other way than by shipping out goods or rendering services to our creditors.

What would the idle army of farmers, industrial workers, miners, lumbermen, do for a living if we stopped exporting? Presumably they would have to do just what they have been doing for the last five years; mainly nothing that yielded them any return—and live in the same conditions.

Does Mr. Woodsworth really think Canadian farmers want to go on "producing for use, not for profit," as they have been doing for the last five years? Or the lumbermen, miners and industrial workers? Maybe according to his views they should want to, but they certainly don't.

HOW IT WORKS

In its finer abstractions the "sound" money theory may be as mysterious and hard to understand as its champions claim. The weird attempts they used to make to explain it to the public seemed to suggest so. That they have long since ceased trying to explain it is equally suggestive, and encourages a suspicion that they do not understand it themselves.

But in its practical application there isn't anything mysterious about the system. The man on the street knows exactly how the thing works out. He hasn't any money and can't get any unless he borrows it, and his governments are in the same position; that is what it amounts to.

This because, as widely proclaimed when the depression was young, it is one of the "laws" of the universe, or of custom, or something, that a Government must not issue money unless it has gold to back up the issue. Since there is not a fraction enough gold in the world to pay its debts that seemed to be a pretty tough law.

But now another one emerges that is tougher still; a Government must not issue money even when it has gold lying in the vaults. This is the latest disclosure at Ottawa, where the Bank of Canada has gold amounting to 66 per cent of its note issue, while it only needs 25 per cent; but isn't issuing any more notes, has in fact cut down the issue by $20,000,000 since April.

Putting these two "laws" together anyone can see how and why the "sound" money system works the way it does. Nothing but gold must be monetized, and gold must not be monetized either.

Could anything be neater than that as a formula for producing money scarcity, or more effective, or simpler? It is an open and shut proposition. The public just haven't a chance in the world. Their business is to pay interest, as private citizens and again as taxpayers. These two beautiful "laws" say so, and that is that.

Conquest Of Poverty

By G. G. McGEER

(The following has been taken from Mr. McGeer's latest book, "The Conquest of Poverty," now on sale throughout Canada.)

Surely we should have learned that if it was necessary to suspend the gold standard to secure the moneys necessary to finance war that we would be unable to pay war debts and the costs of rehabilitation if the gold standard was re-established. We should have learned that when governments distribute wages an increase in buying power is established and the attendant new demands for all manner of goods and services create work and wages and profits for business, commerce and industry. But we apparently learned nothing. No sooner was the war over than the international financiers proceeded to re-establish the cruelest regimentation of humanity in a straight-jacket of gold that had ever been imposed upon any civilization. The international bankers demanded the restoration of the gold standard and stupid statesmen agreed to their demand.

The Post-War Conspiracy

This monstrous conspiracy was not carried out without opposition. In 1918, Arthur Kitson, anticipating what was coming, wrote:

"The nation should be on its guard to see that the war debt is not enhanced by some jugglery with our legal tender after the war. I have already sounded a note of warning in my last book. 'A Fraudulent Standard,' on this matter. The re-introduction of a gold currency accompanied by the gradual withdrawal of our Treasury notes, will, by raising the purchasing power of money and lowering prices, double, if not treble, the actual amount of the war debt in terms of labor and commodities with which the public will have to pay both principal and interest. The method is so insidious and can be accomplished so easily that the public may be cheated before they are aware of it. The war debt has been incurred in cheap pounds, and honest dealing requires repayment in pounds and in commodities of the same value as when the debt was incurred. To raise the value of money after the war is an old trick of the world's financiers. It was practised after the Napoleonic and American Civil wars, and led to years of industrial and social disasters and untold misery. At all costs a repetition of such jugglery should be prevented."

This warning went unheeded. The British government set up the Cunliff Commission in 1918. The international bankers became active and before the Armistice was signed it became apparent that they were bent on re-establishing as quickly as possible could all the iniquities of the gold standard system.

Danger

The Cunliff committee, in 1918, made an interim report, which was completely confirmed by the final report of the committee in December, 1919, advising—

"the restoration of the gold standard at the pre-war parity without delay."

Kitson, in criticism of this interim report at that time, said:

"We cannot possibly go on in the sense of reconstructing and developing our trade and industries with a scarcity of money which the committee recommend. It is therefore the bounden and patriotic duty of those who understand this great question and foresee the dangers and perils to which our economic future will be exposed by a return to our pre-war currency system, to do all in their power to prevent the adoption by the government of the committee's report."

Again, in 1920, Kitson warned the people of Great Britain against the bankers' conspiracy. At that time he wrote:

"We are threatened with wholesome bankruptcy and national ruin through the return to the gold standard now being strenuously advanced by the Treasury and Inland Revenue officials, aided by certain financiers both national and international and their organs. Unless the true nature of this policy is exposed and the conspiracy which has for years defeated, the British taxpayers will not only be saddled with a debt which will become practically inextinguishable, but we shall witness a period of industrial depression and social upheaval more terrible than that following the Napoleonic wars of a century ago. . . . Deflating the currency and raising the bank rate and a period of falling prices spell evil and misfortune to both Labor and Capital. Neither manufacturer nor workmen gain anything from such conditions. . . . Deflating the currency means inflating debts. If the present purchasing power of money is doubled, then it follows that everyone owing money must pay in goods or services twice what he otherwise would have to pay. In short, this movement to contract the currency means wholesale robbery. It means plundering the masses for the benefit of those who own money and bonds and credits. It contemplates the greatest system of confiscation that has ever been attempted. . . . To bring the value of money back to its pre-war level means the doubling of all debts. The present war debt has been incurred in what these professors call 'cheap pounds' and 'debased currency.' And they have the impudence to suggest that the taxpayers should repay this mountainous debt in 'dear pounds.'"

This warning was also in vain. Great Britain returned to gold and poverty for the people, and in 1931, to save that nation from the disaster of revolution, gold payments were abandoned by England for ever. England will never return to gold as the means of settling debts in specie.

Kitson was not alone. John Maynard Keynes, the distinguished economist of Cambridge, did not hesitate to declare in 1923 that:

"The gold standard is a barbarous relic. Advocates of the ancient standard do not observe how remote it is from the spirit and requirements of the age."

Hang the article in your kitchen for ready reference.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION—Mr. M. K. writes: "What vegetables, meats, fruits, and pastries can I have? I have received a positive diagnosis of gastric ulcer, which I understand, is an ulcer of the stomach. I need a diet to heal the ulcer and to correct the gastric elimination."

ANSWER—If you have developed an ulcer of the stomach, the only food you should be using is milk. I find that the ulcer heals more rapidly if the patient remains on an exclusive milk diet. Vegetables might only serve to increase the irritation. Try the milk regimen and while taking the milk, use the plain warm water enema daily. The milk will not provide the bulk needed to induce normal elimination and it is therefore necessary to use the enema. After the stomach ulcer has completely healed, you may then return to a well-balanced diet and will be able to include those foods which will help to banish sluggish elimination. However, at this stage of the treatment, the healing of the ulcer must be placed first, and the correction of the faulty elimination, placed second. I will be pleased to forward to you some general instructions regarding the use of the milk diet in stomach ulcers, if you wish them. The instructions are outlined in two articles, and to secure the articles on Stomach Ulcers, all that you need to do is to write to me and to enclose one large, self-addressed envelope and ten cents. This will help to pay your share of the cost of preparing and mailing the articles to you.

QUESTION—Mrs. J. M. inquires: "When a systemic acidosis is developing, what is the best dietetic treatment to use?"

ANSWER—The best dietetic treatment to use in avoiding acidosis is to secure plenty of the alkaline forming foods and to cut down on the acid forming foods. Further instructions are provided in my article on Acidosis, and I suggest that you send for it. Enclose one large, self-addressed envelope and ten cents.

Dr. Frank McCoy's great book, "The Fast Way to Health," gives you the mechanics of health in plain, easily understandable language.
A limited supply is on hand at The Bulletin. A copy will be mailed postpaid on receipt of $1.00. Just address The Bulletin.
If it is desired to communicate direct with Dr. McCoy, readers are required to address communication direct to Dr. Frank McCoy, 450 South Ardmore Ave., Los Angeles, California, and replies will be mailed direct from that address.

Horoscope

By MARY BLAKE

If August 10 is your birthday there is a possibility of your being agreeably surprised by friends on this day. This should prove to be one of your lucky days, with everything you desire turning out just the way you wish it to.

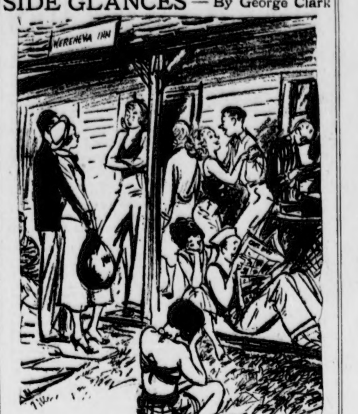

Married and engaged couples and those who are in love should avoid any form of nagging to get a desired result, because they probably will find it is the wrong method.

If a woman and August 10 is your birthday, you must never allow extravagance to plunge you into reckless spending. Do not underestimate your ability. Through marriage you may see some of your dearest dreams realized.

The child born on August 10 usually, when it reaches school age, needs to be taught the importance of paying strict attention to whatever is being said to it.

If a man and August 10 is your natal day, it may be only through thriftiness, that you will be able to accumulate any substantial amount of money.

On This Date

A Day in Canadian History —o— By FRED WILLIAMS

On this date in 1878 the third parliament of Canada was dissolved; Prime Minister Alexander Mackenzie had his way in the selection of the date of the election as he had in so many other matters, but though he was confident as to the result, many of his ministers felt that there was trouble in the air. John A.'s campaign for a National Policy was having marked effect in the country, particularly in Ontario. Cartwright and some of the other ministers had urged that the elections be held in June. Mackenzie refused. June was a bad time for the farmers; September was the month that would bring out the farm vote, upon which he was depending. John Charlton and other Ontario Liberals advised that the elections be deferred until the winter, but again Mackenzie was obstinate. He had set his mind on September and so the elections were held on September 17.

And what a surprise the result was! At the dissolution the Liberals had 183 members to John A's "ragged army" of 73 which he seldom called upon to vote in the House of Commons, not desiring to advertise the ministerial majority. But when the ballots were counted Mackenzie was routed, receiving only 68 supporters while the Conservatives captured 137 seats. There were then, of course, no third parties, just the Tories and Grits, and experts were able to figure out a little while before election day how the tide was running.

BLAST BACKFIRED

Editor Bulletin: Hon. H. H. Stevens, Reconstructionist, says at Victoria: "In the last five years, banks of Canada have contracted commercial loans by $400,000,000. At the same time they have increased their investments in the government bonds, and other securities $375,000,000. The effect was to strangle business." He charged that commercial banks had strangled business by cutting down loans.

How interesting—coming, as it happens, from one, who during that five years, was chief powder monkey in his factory, in blasting away Canadian business with high tariff explosives! The big idea was to blast trade of other nations until they would be glad to trade with us. But somehow the shots backfired. And now Canada is sorry, and Mr. Stevens is sorry, oh, very sorry, and so noting a change in the wind about three months ago, Mr. Stevens metamorphosed from Reactionist to Reconstructionist, or was it a case of transmigration? (Dear, dear, such tophenny words). Better not peer too closely at the Hon. gentleman's whirls during that five years. It brings on that dizzy feeling.

The banks slowed up on lending shortly after the blasting started, for soon there was no business left to lend to. They could make more by lending to business, had there been business, than by lending to the government; but slack, and alas, Mr. Stevens' blasting had been too effective. Moral, when you go blasting favors, don't take a club along. Government was the only thing left to lend to, but the banks should not lend to the government, so saith Mr. Stevens for it was needed for business that no longer existed. And now the metamorphosing is continuing from Reconstructionist to Demagogue. Meanwhile we have just succeeded in blasting our trade with Japan away.

Won't Japan be sorry? We are.

ALBERTA BIDS WHAT?

Editor Bulletin: In another two weeks the people of Alberta will witness the greatest bridge tournament of the ages. Not content with bridge with a deck of cards, a pencil and a score-pad, but a true three-handed game of political bridge in which Howson, Reid and Aberhart (with Legislation as the dummy) will play the fiercest battle ever to be seen in this province.

The cards have already been dealt and with Reid passing and Aberhart vociferating for a New Deal and refusing to show the electorate what he is holding, it is up to Mr. Howson to bid.

A grand slam bid for re-establishment of agricultural industry, refunding of obligations and insurance of all crops allows the U.F.A. competitor to double on principle.

Mr. Aberhart, unaccustomed to such high bidding is notwithstanding confident of his tricks and his finessing ability and, forgetting the scoring value of his policies, triumphantly bids grand slam in basic dividends. Just prices and credit certificates. Who gets the dummy?

ALBERTA WHAT?
YOUNG LIBERAL

Edmonton.

Two Scotsmen decided to become teetotallers. But McGregor thought it would be best if they had one bottle of whisky to put in the cupboard, in case of illness; so the bottle was bought and put in the place mentioned.

After three days Sandy could bear it no longer, and he said, "McGregor, I am ill."

"Too late," says McGregor, "I was ill all yesterday!"

WIDELY KNOWN LAWYER DIES

Word was received in Edmonton on Thursday of the death at Calgary of Fred S. Selwood, well known pioneer lawyer and for many years closely identified with public life in the southern city, having been on the school board and other public bodies there for some ten years.

Formerly a partner of the firm of Short, Ross, Selwood and Shaw but latterly practicing alone, Mr. Selwood was known to a host of old time Alberta residents from every section of the province. He had been ill for some months and died at noon on Thursday.

Surviving are his widow and two children, Edith, who has just completed Normal training and is now a school teacher, and Charles, an engineer graduate from the University of Toronto.

Practical Steps Are Overlooked By W. Aberhart

DRUMHELLER, Aug. 9.—Wm. Aberhart in his zeal to institute social credit in Alberta had studied only the technical points of the Douglas proposals overlooking the practical steps which Douglas deemed necessary before any plan could be inaugurated, J. McArthur, Calgary, told a Rosedale audience on Thursday night when speaking in the interests of Duncan McDonald, Liberal candidate for the Drumheller constituency.

Mr. McArthur dealt fully and sympathetically with the Social Credit viewpoint, telling an audience composed largely of Aberhart supporters, that before dividends could be made available it would be necessary to have the volume of production within provincial bounds to back up such dividends.

The speaker warned his hearers against taking any step which would result in disillusionment because of the enthusiasm of social credit advocates but rather to accept the Liberal suggestion calling for a complete investigation of the question by authorities.

Mr. McArthur and other speakers, including the candidate, received hearty applause.

MILLS BOMB, TWO SHELLS CAUSE STIR

COWES, Isle of Wight, Aug. 9.—Crowds walking to the front for Thursday's feature race of the Royal Regatta were startled to see a man carrying a Mills bomb and two shells in his hands.

It turned out he was a new tenant and had found the ammunition in his house. He took them to the police station, walking warily with his dangerous burden through the thronged streets.

COWES, Isle of Wight, Aug. 9.—A stockingless girl, a visitor for the Royal Regatta, Thursday nearly broke the unwritten rule which prohibits women without stockings going on the famous exclusive lawns of the Royal Yacht Squadron.

She came ashore at the squadron steps, at the last moment changed her mind and made her way to the town.

150 FAMILIES OFF RELIEF

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 9.—Led by a preacher who believes "God helps those who help themselves," 150 families were off relief rolls today and headed for big business.

In a co-operative endeavor resembling Upton Sinclair's "production-for-use" scheme, one group will produce fruits and vegetables while another operates a big cannery here.

Operating the year around, the plant will supplement local supplies with purchases in the open market when necessary.

Anti-Jewish Riots Flare In Algeria

ALGERS, Aug. 9.—Anti-Jewish rioting broke out in Oran and Sidi Bel Abbes on the anniversary of the Arab-Semitic conflicts of last year in which 100 were slain and 300 hurt, according to dispatches reaching here Thursday.

Large red placards appeared on the walls of Sidi Bel Abbes, addressed to native and European workers and terminating with the words: "Death to Jews!"

FINAL OFFER SOUGHT FROM POWER GROUP

Civic Power Committee To Seek Definite Stand on Question

The Calgary Power Company will be asked to make a definite and final offer for the supply of power to Edmonton not later than August 23, it was decided at a meeting of the civic power committee Thursday night when five aldermen met to consider what action the city should take on the existing agreement which expires next October.

Ald. R. V. Bellamy opined that committee meetings should be suspended until after the provincial elections, and Ald. Jas. East, Labor candidate, agreed with him.

MAYOR OBJECTS

Objecting to such action, Mayor J. A. Clarke declared the committee had had the power question under review for more than a year, "and it is time we made a definite recommendation to city council." He did not believe the forthcoming elections should be allowed to interfere with civic business.

Ald. East then made it plain he was ready to attend as many meetings as anyone else, if it was felt negotiations with the company should be continued during the period preceding the elections.

When the vote was taken, however, it was decided to adjourn until August 23, the day following the elections. The Calgary Power Company will be informed that this is the deadline for a new offer to the city.

PACT FAVORABLE

Discussing the general power situation, Ald. Bellamy declared the city had been saved from making rash commitments through a favorable agreement with the southern power firm. City power plant profits had increased during the five-year term of the present agreement, and he was of the opinion that another suitable pact with the company, similar to the present one, would be in the interests of Edmonton until such time as the proposed extension to the city's own plant was completed.

Ald. A. Bisset felt the city should receive expert advice on the local power situation from a recognized authority on the city might be guided with respect to the most economical method of producing power.

NEW OFFER

It was the firm contention of Ald. J. W. Findlay that the Calgary Power Co. "Should either come near to our requirements or we should terminate the agreement and continue on our own resources." He did not think the city had to accept anything the company chose to offer in the way of a pact.

Supporting Ald. Bisset, Ald. J. W. Fry declared the city would be wise to seek expert advice before it took any action to terminate or continue the agreement with the power firm.

Ald. East stated that the duty of negotiating with the company had been left with the committee, and that another attempt should be made to reach a satisfactory arrangement before a definite recommendation was made to city council.

PUT TO VOTE

Ald. Fry's motion that the committee, through acting superintendent Ritchie, should submit full details to a competent consulting engineer for a complete report on power house requirements for the proposed extensions and on the merits of the latest offer from the Calgary Power Co. was finally put to a vote, but only Ald. Bisset supported it.

Ald. East, Ald. Findlay and Ald. Bellamy opposed, the latter after stating that he would not be a member of the council after the next election.

Others attending the meeting included Commissioner David Mitchell, City Solicitor Thos. Garside and H. H. Parlee, K.C., local counsel for the Calgary Power Co.

More than 7,000,000 men and women served under the British flag during the World War. Of this number about 4,500,000 are still living.

Curves Are Stressed By Designers

By ADELAIDE KERR

PARIS, Aug. 9—Curves got a big hand in Schiaparelli's winter fashion show yesterday.

Both the evening and the day silhouette, which the designer described as "Clothed in nudity," were molded along lines of the figure, particularly accenting the bust.

Every mannequin wore her hair gathered in a close-fitting net which covered all but the front locks.

Bright satin ankle-length evening trousers were worn under black gowns, cut up about a foot at the hem-line to reveal the trousers.

Day clothes were cut along more republican lines and featured shorter skirts, 12 to 14 inches above the ground; high neck-lines and broadened shoulders.

AT BRUYERE'S

Trousered skirts for sports, afternoon and evening wear and hooded dresses, suits and coats were exhibited at Bruyere's winter fashion show. Trousered skirts were "going to be in evidence" this winter. They appeared in brown and grey wool for sports, the frocks having basque bodies and very wide, divided skirts.

Afternoon dresses were in black satin and velvet with 10-inch wide trousers showing a few inches under slender skirts which were slit to the waistline in front. They were also seen in velvet dinner frocks, some of which were designed with a knee-length tunic over fairly full trousers gathered at the ankle.

Hoods were widely used for day clothes. Brown wool ensembles with capes, tweed coat dresses, and straight, hem-length black seal coats were all designed with loose-fitting hoods. Fur, felt and crepe suits appeared with close-hitting broadtail hoods ending in the short-ruffled cape.

WHAT JODELLE SHOWS

Jewel-studded, long-sleeved evening gowns were shown at Jodelles' winter fashion show opening.

Lames shimmering like a molten gold, changeable velvets and failles of glinting red blue or green lights, soft, pale flowered lame brocades, and white and purple satins and crepes were among the luxurious fabrics used.

Crepe evening gowns, designed with huge bishop sleeves and full skirts, were accented

Something Gay For Summer

Heavy white linen crash is used for this cool looking summer suit worn by Bette Davis.

A pencil barred design in brick red gives color to the outfit. The suit also comes with the bars done in green and green trimmed accessories.

In this case the tilt brimmed hat is banded with a two-toned ribbon in matching and harmonizing red.

Weddings

WEBBER—STONE

On Saturday, Aug. 3, at 3 o'clock, the home of Miss Gilchrist in Garneau was the setting for a very pretty wedding when her niece, Dorothy Stone, became the bride of Dr. W. R. Webber, of Lamont.

The marriage took place in the drawing-room against a background of delphiniums and other garden flowers.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. McLeod of Lamont in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends of the families.

The wedding marches were played by Mrs. Webber of Calgary, and during the signing of the register sang "Because," accompanied by Miss Clara Bothwell.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. W. J. Stone, wore white organza, fashioned on long lines. Her wedding veil, worn by her mother on her wedding day, fell in flimsy folds from the dress and formed a train at the back. She carried sweet peas and lilies of the valley.

She was attended by Mrs. Walter Webber as matron of honor, and a little flower girl, Anne McEachern. Mrs. Webber was frocked in maize organdie over green silk, with which she wore a wide-brimmed green hat, and carried sweet peas and snapdragons.

The flower girl was in a frilled frock of pink organza.

The best man was Mr. Walter Webber, brother of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for 50 guests. Receiving with the wedding party, the bride's mother was smart in navy and grey and corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Webber, the bridegroom's mother, wore black and white with a corsage of deep red roses. Miss Gilchrist was in midnight blue and corsage of dahlias.

The bride's table was laid in lace and done in delphiniums and pansies.

Dr. and Mrs. Webber are spending their honeymoon in the mountains and will take up their residence in Lamont.

For traveling the bride chose a brown and Spanish tile costume and brown accessories.

D'Arcy McGee's Kin Recalls Assassination

MONTREAL, Aug. 9 — The assassination of her father, Thomas D'Arcy McGee, one of the Fathers of Confederation, was recalled here tonight by Agnes D'Arcy McGee, his daughter, on the eve of her 78th birthday.

Miss McGee resides at the Father Dowd Memorial Home here. Thomas D'Arcy McGee was assassinated by a Fenian on April 6, 1868, in Ottawa.

"I was only 10 years old at the time," she said, "and was alone with my mother as my sister was at the Villa Marie convent. I remember so clearly the last words of my father to me as he was leaving for Ottawa. I had a toy stuffed dog that I called Fido under my arm.

"My father said: 'Well, God bless you, Pegeo. Take good care of Fido and the dolls while I am away.'"

Miss McGee was born in Brooklyn, N.Y., one of five children, three of whom died before the family came to Montreal. Her sister, Mrs. J. Quinn, died in California several years ago.

Mrs. A. P. Chatteil and the Misses D. M. and E. P. Chatteil went to Jasper this week and have been guests at the Lodge.

- JASPER - JOTTINGS

By FAY PARKER

JASPER, Aug. 9.—The long week-end, occasioned by the civic holiday, brought a large number from Edmonton to Jasper, and many took advantage of the excursion rates to enjoy a mountain holiday. Bad highway conditions discouraged some of the motorists, and several turned back; but all those who either motored or arrived by train were not disappointed. C.N.R. train No. 1 on Sunday was in two sections with 600 excursionists on their way to the coast.

The tenth annual memorial service held at Mt. Edith Cavell on Sunday at three o'clock was attended by nearly two hundred persons, many of them from the Old Country. The memorial address was given by Rev. R. E. Bradshaw and in part he stressed the importance of our sacrifice towards the cleansing of society today, if the sacrifice of Nurse Edith Cavell is not to be in vain. This is the greatest tribute that we can pay to gentle English womanhood. The memorial service always includes the hymn "Rock of Ages," which perhaps is never sung with more appropriate surroundings. On Sunday the mists hung low and veiled the snowy peak from view, but as the ceremony drew to its impressive close with the "Last Post, the clouds lifted and disclosed the shining promise of better things, envisioned on the glistening, sunlit mountains named in memory of Nurse Edith Cavell. This is one of the most unique memorial services conducted in Canada and one that has world-wide prominence.

On Saturday afternoon, the W. A. of the Anglican church held their regular monthly baking sale in the Jeffery store, with Mrs. Grosmans, Mrs. R. D. Riley and Mrs. F. Stone in charge. The affair was most successful.

Joe Barratt left a party of Edmonton lads into the Tonquin Valley on Friday over the Viewpoint trail. They returned to Jasper on Monday. While in the Valley, they made their headquarters at the Memorial hut of the Alpine Club of Edmonton. Lots of fishing rods were in evidence in their packs.

Climbing parties over the glaciers and up some of the high peaks of the region filled their time. The party were Messrs. McLean, Dunbar Raitt, Dick Coutts, Lloyd Coutts, Reuben Magee, Don McKenzie of Edmonton, and Misses Dennis Pearce, Frank Jones, Bob Young and Norman Floyd.

The little fawn that is such an attraction at the Cottonwood Auto Camp is now about three weeks old, and as tame as a kitten. Curled up on a rug before the fire in the home of Caretaker A. Bocock gets lots of attention, and his pictures are travelling to all parts of the world this constant companions are two huge Russian wolf hounds.

Young Jack Bocock discovered the tiny baby when he was hardly half a day only, not far from the mangled remains of his mother, killed by a coyote. He has been raised in the traditional manner of babies, on the bottle, and has thrived. This week he has started cropping grass. He is healthy and seems well nourished.

JASPER, Aug. 9—Comtesse de la Panouse left Jasper Wednesday with visible regrets. Since her arrival last Thursday she has crowded much of the park's world-famous attractions, the wonderful drive to Mt. Edith Cavell and the mystery of Maligne canyon deeply impressing her. The abundant wild life along the highways was a constant source of pleasure to this visitor seeing Canada for the first time.

"Your country is marvelous," she said in her delightfully accented English. The comtesse has found the stay at Jasper Park Lodge one of the highlights of her Canadian tour, and was much interested in its rustic beauty and to learn the main building is the largest log building in the world. Her next stop will be Vancouver, and from there she will leave to travel to New York through the United States, and sail for France on the Normandie.

Hon. R. Brugere, French minister to Canada, arrived at Jasper Park Lodge Wednesday for a complete rest following his active part in a big exhibition of French products recently held in Montreal. No definite trips have been planned by the minister.

the social round . . .

IF YOU have to get your slang out of a dictionary, it isn't real slang—for slang is the moving language of the day, someone explained to us. Being a discriminating individual, we found that the new American Dictionary of Slang somehow missed fire on many of our favorites. For example, we couldn't find "Was my face red?" We have had a special leaning toward this phrase ever since we heard of the dinner party at which a group of highly intellectual individuals were discussing highly intellectual matters. Suddenly an imp of mischief twigged the ear of one of the gentleman who, though he is of no mean learning, prides himself on his contact with the world of common things. He scorned to use the familiar phrase which might have been recognized, if not accepted, and concluded a story with "And was my mug marooned!"

One member of the gentler sex looked a little puzzled, and wanted to know how a face could be "marooned"?

This started a general outburst of slang, and rivalry was rampant in the intellegentsia.

A few of the choice inventions were: "Was my map magenta?" "Was my physiognomy flaming?" "Was my visage vermilion?" "Was my countenance crimson?" and "Were my lineaments lilac?" (Although we thought this last, being definitely off-color, should be scratched).

The advantages of higher education are self-evident.

Oh, forest trees who spend long hours

Of slow communing with the sky,
You know the secrets of the wind
And hear all things cry.

On mornings fresh with silver dew
You shake your glistening limbs in play
And toss your leaves in fairie dance
To greet another day.

Among the flowers and scented moss
You watch and dream and sleep,
The birds and stars and moon your friends.
What secrets you must keep!

T. EATON CO. FLOWER SHOW INTERESTING

Affair Staged in Co-operation With Horticultural Society

Painting a section of the T. Eaton Co. second floor annex with riotous color, entries in the annual flower show of the department store, staged in co-operation with the Edmonton Horticulture and Vacant Lots Garden Association, were on display Friday.

Section set aside for the flower show was crowded with exhibitors early Friday morning as entries were arranged in attractive display. The show was open for public inspection shortly before 11:00 a.m. and the aisles set aside for the event were crowded with interested spectators throughout the morning and early afternoon. The show will continue Saturday.

Last year, when the affair was first instituted, competition was limited to sweet pea varieties. This year, snap dragons, roses, gladiola, pansies and attractive arrangements of other garden varieties supplemented sweet peas in forming an exceptional display of floral beauty. There are nearly 100 distinct entries in all classes. A. Jarrom, secretary of the horticulture society, is in charge of arrangements.

Judging commenced shortly before noon with W. Slocum and J. Gow in charge.

STARK, GRIM WAR REALITY SCREEN EPIC

Immortal battles; unforgettable scenes and war in its stark, grim reality, shorn of romance and glamor are shown as they actually took place, before the camera, in the mighty spectacle "Lest We Forget," which comes to the Rialto theatre for one week commencing on Monday next under the auspices of the Canadian Legion.

This is a glorious story of the Canadian Corps in France and of Canadian association in the war. And while the story is mainly Canadian, the scenes of other arms and other allied nations does not go unnoticed.

Robert Pearson, Alberta motion picture censor, who served with the forces during the war, after viewing "Lest We Forget," said:

"The viewing of this picture left me with renewed convictions of the absolute folly and futility of the settling of international questions by resorting to arms and I feel that it would be to the interest of everyone, no matter what their opinions are on this matter, to view the scenes.

"It depicts the obvious terrific difficulties under which our men fought, the suffering and loss of life, as well as the tremendous waste in the general destruction of everything.

"It is also a picture of great interest, revealing scenes and places of interest that were visited by the troops during this period. It will enable all returned men to live again the most momentous years of their lives."

At 3 p.m. on Thursday the temperature was 69 while hourly readings until midnight were 70, 69, 67, 61, 53, 52, 50, 49 and 49. At 1 a.m. the thermometer read 48 and hourly readings until 9 a.m. were 48, 50, 53, 59, 65, 65, 65

A BEDTIME STORY

Story by HAL. COCHRAN Pictures by GEORGE SCARBO

"Well," Scouty said, "Let's not stand here. I don't think there's a thing to fear inside the archway of Freak Forest. Who will follow me?

"At least we all can walk around. No telling what things may be found. The pilot of the plane said there'd be lots of things to see."

"I'm game," said Dotty. "Lead the way. If we don't like it, we come here. Nice company fills me with cheer. I am a wild beast trainer, and I train the tame ones, too.

"The pilot of the plane has been here and he said that you'd drop in. I'll spend all of the time I can at entertaining you."

"Oh, that's just fine," said Dotty. "Now, perhaps you'd like to tell us won't stay. I just hope we are fortunate, and find a bite to eat.

"I am so hungry, I feel thin." And then the Tinymites walked in. A bird upon a tree limb greeted them with, "Tweet, tweet, tweet."

"Hello, there," shouted Coppy. "Say, why don't you fly and show the way to someone who knows 'bout this place? We're strangers here, you see."

Back through the trees the strange bird flew. The next thing that the Tinies knew, they came upon a man who said, "Ah, ha, what do I see?

"Some little tots! You're well-how we all can get a little lunch. Then we will feel all right.

"For hours we have been on the go. That's made us hungry lots, you know. We'll gladly eat up anything that you can put in sight,' The man just smiled and said, "I had a hunch that you all would be glad to have a lot of sandwiches. A basketful is near."

They found it 'neath a nearby tree. Said Duncy, "That looks good to me." The man said, "Take your time at eating. I will stay right here."

(The Tinymites see a very strange animal in the next story.)

HOW TO MAKE ICED TEA

Infuse six heaping teaspoons of Salada Black Tea in a pint of fresh boiling water. After six minutes strain liquid into two-quart container. While hot, add 1½ cups of granulated sugar and the juice of 2 lemons. Stir well until sugar is dissolved; fill container with cold water. Do not allow tea to cool before adding the cold water; otherwise liquid will become cloudy. Serve with chipped ice.

"SALADA" ICED TEA

Cool Beverages Aid Hot Day Appetites

By MARY E. DAGUE

The easiest thing for the person with the least bit appetite to get down in hot weather is usually the thing that looks coolest and most tempting.

So, on hot, breezeless noons, try serving a nourishing drink that clinks and accumulates frost on the outside of the glass, with two or more kinds of prettily made sandwiches with vegetable fillings.

Everybody likes chocolate, of course, but you needn't stop there when you make out your cold drink list. Fruit juices, spices, vanilla, almonds, pistachio, caramel and maple—all can be combined with milk to make refreshing and nourishing drinks. The syrup from preserves, jam and jelly, too, for that matter.

Milk and cream, milk and egg may be used with the chosen syrup And condensed and evaporated milks will give fine results. Naturally, don't add sugar to the drink made with condensed milk.

Here are some economical drinks that I hope will mean as much to your child as they do to mine:

Sister Mary

PINEAPPLE SHAKE

One cup chilled pineapple juice, ½ cup chilled evaporated milk, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, chipped ice.

Add pineapple juice to milk and shake hard. Or you can beat the mixture with a small dover beater. Add ice and lemon juice and shake. This makes two servings. Any fruit juice can be used the same way.

ORANGE EGGNOG

One egg, 2 oranges, 1 cup chilled milk, 1 tablespoon sugar, few grains salt, crushed ice.

Squeeze juice from oranges and grate rind. Add rind to juice and let stand while preparing other ingredients. Separate yolk from white of egg. Beat yolk with sugar and add strained juice. Beat well and add milk and salt. Mix thoroughly and fold in white of egg beaten until stiff. Be sure to chill oranges and egg as well as milk before mixing. This rule makes two servings.

Another delicious drink is made with the whites of eggs.

THREE FRUIT FOAM

Two cups chilled grape juice, 1 cup grapefruit juice, 1 cup lemon juice, whites 3 eggs, crushed ice, ¾ cup powdered sugar.

Put fruit juices, unbeaten egg whites and sugar into a shaker and shake until foamy. The mixture can be beaten with a dover beater. Pour over crushed ice and serve with straws. This will make four large glasses.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Cantaloupe, cereal, cream, bacon pan cakes, syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Assorted vegetable sandwiches, orange eggnog, cocoanut macaroons.

DINNER: Veal patties, creamed potatoes, fried squash, avocado and grapefruit salad, rice souffle (chilled), milk, coffee.

Your Children -

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

O. R. Barton

"What do you think, mother? It's Mrs. Bright's birthday and what do you s'pose she said?"

Something sensible, whatever it was, I'm sure. But people do think she is odd sometimes. What was it?"

"This morning when I stopped to get Butch to go fishing she was talking to him in the hall Butch's father had given him half a dollar to buy bait and stuff for that. But here Mrs Bright was saying to Butch, Oliver, I expect you to buy me a birthday present. You have enough money there to get me two nice handkerchiefs or a box of paper.' And I'd rather be surprised than to know about it. I'd rather you chose it yourself.'

"Well, Butch was a-gulping around and lookin' kinda funny and gee, I didn't know what to say. I couldn't help thinking. My goodness, my mother wouldn't do such a selfish thing as that. She'd want me to go and have a good time and not expect me to spend money that was my own all on a present when it was the only money I had in all the world.'"

"What happened?"

GUM DROPS FOR MOTHER

"Well, Butch went and spent 20 cents on a can of gum drops and told the grocery boy to take it over with the order. We had to hurry But I think Mrs. Bright must be crazy. She sent it back. And when Butch came home she said she had some talking to do with him.

"She wasn't mad, but she looked awfully set about something. How, I think she'd been crying. What difference did it make whether she didn't like gumdrops or not? Anyway, I just thought about you. I never get anything on your birthday and you never say a word. Dad always gives you something and that does for me, too.

"The boy's mother was silent for a moment and then she said, 'Robert, there's more to this than you think. Mrs. Bright is trying to put an idea into her son's head, and I admire her for it. She is trying to make him understand that she counts, that she must be thought of and remembered. She knows he loves her just as you love, but young people are apt to get the habit of thinking their parents are important or must have thought and a little sacrifice spent on them.

SACRIFICE WORKS BOTH WAYS

"I know that she has given up hundreds of things to make Oliver happy, and I'll bet a dime she can just go on doing it forever without the least effort on his part to consider her. It is hard to explain to you, my dear, but consideration of others has to be set by habit sometimes.

"Once Oliver gets the habit of thinking of her, and of his father, he will grow up and after a while he will be glad. He'll see that it took some of the selfishness out of him and that the thoughts of somebody else. The day will come when he will thank her. He was very rude in sending the package home with the delivery boy. She did the right thing, exactly.

"All of you young people must be made a little more thoughtful. After this I want you to remember my birthday, too. And stop taking it for granted your father will substitute for you. Tell me, do you think I am as important as Miss Trent?' You gave her a book when she left school."

Robert stared at her a second and then said huskily, "Gee, mom, I guess I've been thinking of everybody but first and you. And Butch —just you wait. I'm goin' over and give him thunder. Can of gum drops! Bah, that lousy liar!"

Fair Sex Can't Have Cake And Eat It Too

A great many people beat upon their breasts and strew ashes on their heads when they speak of the attitude of the modern man toward the modern woman and the lack of chivalry with which he treats her.

"Look at the way men knock women around in a crowd," they cry. "Look at the men who grab the best seats in a car and sit while women stand! Look at the way men puff their pipes in women's faces instead of asking permission to smoke a cigar as they used to. Why, even lovers are not gallant any more. The Romeo of today doesn't climb up to his Juliet's balcony. He drives up before her door and honks his horn and she comes out and climbs into the car by herself. He doesn't even lend her a hand!"

To a degree all of this is true. You can't eat your cake and have it, too. When women fought for their rights and got them, they automatically lost their privileges. When they shoved they could stand on their own feet, men jolly well made them do it.

Dorothy Dix

It is intrinsically impossible to be a sturdy oak and a clinging vine at the same time, and when women entered into active competition with men in business and took their jobs away from many of them, they could no longer be regarded as helpless little pets that had to be cherished. They became equals and rivals. And that was the end of the old-fashioned chivalry.

Flapper Fanny Says

When a dancer's energy is spent, she can't bank on her balance.

Men had to devise a new technique for their dealings with women. The etiquette of the drawing-room could not prevail in the workshop. It would be absurd for an employer to hop to his feet and bow and kiss the hand of his stenographer every time she came into the office, or for male clerks to spend their time picking up the handkerchiefs of the saleslades.

Then a woman was a slave, a prisoner, a toy for men's convenience and amusement, and a man who treated one even halfway decently was considered so remarkable that minstrels went around the country singing his praises. Even in our grandmother's time men displayed their gallantry by supporting a lady on their arms when she took a walk abroad; they picked up her tatting when she dropped it and doubtless would have given her their seats in the subway if there had been any subways, but they didn't give her any rights. If she was an heiress when she married, her property was all turned over to her husband to spend on other women if he chose. If she had a fine mind and desired an education, every college door was barred to her. If she was poor, she had to eat the bitter bread of dependence because men were monopolizing all of the gainful occupations.

The men of today may let a woman stand in a street car, but they give her a chance to make an honest living. They may not lift their hats to her in the elevator, but they pass laws that protect her in her right to her own property. The knight of today does not dress in rattling armor and go on foot quests to rescue a distressed damsel, but he opens his store and office doors to hundreds of poor young women and keeps them from the poorhouse and the street.

So in view of these facts it is idiotic to speak of the decay of men's gallantry. It has simply changed to suit a new demand. Men are no longer carpet knights. They are big brothers. And women are perfectly willing to pick up their own handkerchiefs with one hand as long as they can pick up a pay envelope with the other.

DOROTHY DIX.

What's What

I am having our original wedding party over to celebrate our second anniversary next month and will entertain with a buffet supper. Won't you please write suggestions as to how to carry out the occasion? Please suggest menu and table decorations. We had a "nasturtium" wedding when we were married in 1925. What is the symbolism of the second and other "young" wedding anniversaries (up to the tenth)?

MRS. M. O.

Answer—The first anniversary is known as the paper wedding; the second, cotton wedding; third, sugar wedding; fourth, fruit wedding; fifth, wooden wedding; sixth, floral wedding; seventh, woolen wedding; eighth, rubber wedding; ninth, leather wedding, and tenth, the tin (or aluminum) wedding. Yours, the second anniversary, is the cotton wedding; decorate accordingly with absorbent cotton in various forms (including the figure 2), combined with the nasturtium blossoms of your original wedding. Serve cotton-white refreshments, so far as possible; cream cheese and white-meat chicken sandwiches with milk shake, vanilla ice cream, angel food and peppermint wafers.

Brother and Sister — Mourning handkerchiefs for women nowadays are not deeply black-bordered. Usually there is only a tiny line of black at the edge of the handkerchief. Men use plain white handkerchiefs. Mourning paper and visiting cards are preferred, with a wide black edge line instead of the wide black margin formerly used.

Beautiful Tresses Come With Care Says Anita

By GLADYS GLAD

A famous coiffure stylist, whose salon harbors more stage and screen celebrities than the leading Hollywood theatre on an important opening night, believes that girls usually do more injury to their hair during the summer months than during any other season. And all because, as he puts it, they permit their foolish heads to soak up too much sunshine.

This coiffure stylist, who has glorified enough sceen beauties' tresses to know his hair treatments perfectly, believes that a certain amount of sun exposure is beneficial to both the hair and scalp. But he considers over-exposure to the sun's rays just as harmful to the hair as it is to the skin. And he regards it as especially harmful to bleached hair. He's correct. I know a charming natural blond, who always sprays a bit of oil on her locks before exposing herself to the glaring sun. For this, she insists, helps to keep blonde hair glossy and lustrous.

You know as well as I, of course, that a streaky head of blonde hair certainly looks anything but attractive. I've never seen any bleached blonde yet who really wanted such hair. Bleached blondes want to appear naturally blonde, and a streaked, strawy effect is the last thing they desire.

SUN STREAKS HAIR

Nevertheless, when a bleached blonde ever exposes her hair to the strong rays of the sun, she is likely to acquire a streaky head of hair, regardless of the skill of her beautician. Too much sunshine tends to bleach the hair, not evenly, and some appear a brassy gold. Which means that the total effect is artificial and unattractive. Bleached hair is especially likely to be affected by this bleaching and streaking effect of over-exposure to the sun, because it is more absorbent than virgin hair.

The texture of bleached blonde hair also is likely to suffer through over-exposure to the sun's rays. In the first place, the usual bleaching process tends to remove a great deal of the natural oil from the hair. Sunlight has somewhat the same effect. And if bleached hair is overexposed to the sun's rays it becomes dry, strawy and brittle.

Protection, of course, is the remedy for the bleached blonde. A bit of fine oil or brilliantine sprayed lightly over the hair will give it some protection. But bleached hair needs even more protection than that. Use those brimmed beach hats if you are a bleached blonde. Use a bandanna or one of those smart berets if you are indulging in any of the summer sports of boating, picnicking, or motoring in an open car. Give your bleached locks ample protection always, and you'll be amply rewarded.

ANITA LOUISE, natural blonde whose hair shows it is well cared for.

URGE CLOSING OF ALL SMALL B.C. SCHOOLS

Shutting Those With Attendance Under Eight Would Save Big Sum

VICTORIA, Aug. 9.—Closing of all elementary schools in British Columbia with an average daily attendance under eight is recommended in the report of H. B. King, technical adviser to the provincial government commission on school finance.

Major King would educate pupils from the 94 such schools through the government's correspondence course now functioning. Money so saved could be used to raise teachers' salaries of $780 or less to the "level of decent subsistence."

Alternatively, he suggests the 48 schools with an average daily attendance under seven be closed. He believes the saving would be $100 a year on each pupil transferred from school to the correspondence course. He could not estimate the total saving, since 33 school boards failed to report, but the cost of the remaining schools was $56,837.

"A saving of from $40,000 to $50,000 could readily be made by closing the schools with an average daily attendance under seven and about twice that much by closing those under eight," the report states.

HITLER CABLED BY ANTI-NAZIS

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—An anti-Nazi gathering in Madison Square Garden last night cheered six men accused of having torn a Swastika flag from the bow of the Bremen, called for an American boycott of the Olympic Games in Germany and cabled Chancellor Hitler a "demand" for the release of anti-Nazi prisoners there.

"Twenty thousand American citizens in Madison Square Garden, New York, assembled, demand the immediate and unconditional release of Ernst Thaelmann, Carl von Ossietzky and all other anti-Nazi prisoners," the cablegram said.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

By DAN THOMAS

If you've ever wondered what it makes a pot of coffee boil so nicely when you see a young bride cooking her husband's breakfast on the screen, here's the secret. Actually there isn't any coffee in the pot at all. Just water and it's cold. The pot is filled so that the water comes halfway up the spout. Just before the scene is to be filmed, a piece of dry ice is dropped down the spout, creating a rush of perfect "steam."

It was a hot day and the studio stage was even hotter. Despite that, Ted Healy had to be bundled up in a heavy woolen army uniform for his role in "Here Comes the Band." Every time he could slip out between scenes, he dashed over to the studio commissary for a cooling glass of beer. By quitting time he had consumed 20 of them.

Canadian-Built Vessels Will Be Used By Benito

LONDON, Aug. 9—The Italian government which is organizing a great fleet of troopships for the probable East African campaign has acquired the Minnedosa and the Melita, former Canadian Pacific liners, it was learned here today.

The Canadian vessels were sold for breaking up, it was understood from an official of the Canadian Pacific, but Mussolini is understood to have decided they should be pressed into service. Both are among the best-known Canadian vessels of some years ago.

SAYS SOCIAL CREDIT PAIL, HALTER TRICK

Hon. J. F. Lymburn Launches Another Radio Attack on Aberhartism

Declaring that the Aberhart Social Credit scheme was just another variation of the old "pail and halter" trick which the farm wives of frisky colts were being caught up, and that the Aberhart apostles were now going over the country offering the pail of oats to the unwary in the form of a $25 a month Aberhart Social Credit slip while concealing behind their backs the halter of the enormously enlarged tax levy which must accompany such a proposal, Hon. J. F. Lymburn launched another radio attack on Aberhartism on Thursday night.

EXCEPTION TAKEN

"Some exception has been taken to my estimate of the cost of administering one or two aspects of Mr. Aberhart's proposals and a letter in the Calgary Albertan objects to my figure of $16,500,000 for this purpose," he said.

"Many people talk glibly about Mr. Aberhart's ability to carry on the government of the province. He has definitely refused to the existing financial institutions what he proposes to do with them. Is it reasonable to imagine that these institutions will—even suppose Mr. Aberhart were returned with a unanimous house of Social Credit-ers—continue to finance the operations of government. No government carries on its business out of a fund in actual cash in the bank. All governments are run more or less on bank credit.

The first difficulty Mr. Aberhart would be up against would be that at the end of the first month he would not be able to issue a single cheque on the existing financial institutions to pay the salaries of the Civil Service. His next problem would be that he would not be able to draw on the existing financial institutions to pay the government's share of relief to those who are on relief. There would, likewise, be no money with which to pay the Provincial Government's share of Old Age Pensions and Mothers' Allowances.

"Do not make any mistake. Mr. Aberhart's advent to control of the Government would dislocate the entire carrying on of the business of the people of the Province. It is futile for his supporters to imagine that the financial institutions and the Dominion Government will rush to his assistance and supply him with the necessary funds to carry on until such time as he can put the financial institutions out of commission and tell the Dominion Government where it gets off at.

COSTS ENORMOUS

The administration costs would be enormous and $16,500,000 is not an outside figure.

It should be remembered too that this amount is larger than the entire revenue of the Province for a whole year. Fees, fines, licenses, taxes of every kind of revenue would require to be doubled to meet this extra charge.

Mr. Aberhart's contention is that all he needs in order to pay dividends totalling $120,000,000 in the course of a year is the sum of $10,000,000.

TWO WAYS TO GET SUM

There are two ways he can get this sum.

The first way is by borrowing. The second way is the one Mr. Aberhart proposes to adopt—that is to collect by way of a levy on the people of the province.

Mark you! Mr. Aberhart admits he must recover every cent of the $120,000,000 by way of a levy.

Mr. Aberhart talks glibly about imposing import taxes.

Does he imagine for one moment that he can interfere with interprovincial trade? Neither from the practical standpoint, nor from the constitutional standpoint can he do so.

The putting into effect of his proposals would automatically open up the frontiers and wholesalers of the other provinces of Canada a tremendous market in Alberta—thus immediately putting out of business every store owner in this province which would be quite unable to meet the prices offered by competitors outside the province.

All articles of growth produced or manufactured by anyone of the provinces must be admitted free into each of the other provinces, a province can tax goods within the province but it cannot exempt from the tax goods of the same nature produced in the province. The province cannot put a tax on goods produced outside the province and exempt from the tax goods of a similar nature within the province. Such a tax would be equivalent to an excise tax and the Dominion government alone can levy a customs and excise tax.

Whatever may be the merits or demerits of the Douglas Social Credit scheme it cannot be too plainly stated that the Aberhart proposals are not in any way related to social credit.

OATS AND HALTER TRICK

The proposal of Mr. Aberhart is just the old "oats and halter trick."

Many a colt has been deprived of its liberty by a farmer with a pail of oats in one outstretched hand and a halter in the other hand held behind his back.

Every community of the province is now being invaded by men holding the promise of a basic dividend of $25 a month in one outstretched hand and the halter of taxation, carefully concealed under the name of "levy," in the hidden hand.

KING VISITS HISTORIC SPOT

KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 9.—Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King spent a few hours Thursday in surroundings familiar to his grandfather, William Lyon Mackenzie, leader of the Upper Canada Rebellion of 1837. Returning to Ottawa from Kingston Mr. King stopped to visit Oakenagh Grange, the old Baxter homestead where Isobel Baxter, Mackenzie's wife, spent her girlhood.

Mr. King also paid an unannounced visit to the relief camp at Barriefield and spent a short time chatting with some of the men.

COMPENSATION BOARD RAPPED AT ROSEDALE

DRUMHELLER, Aug. 9—The Workmen's Compensation board came in for a severe drubbing at the hands of James Touhey, mining engineer, speaking Thursday night in support of Duncan McDonald, Liberal nominee in the Drumheller constituency, at a rally in Rosedale.

Mr. Touhey charged that anti-quated mine rescue equipment which required five hours to travel four miles from Drumheller to Nacmine at the time of the Nacmine explosion was responsible for the loss of at least one life. Mine rescue, Mr. Touhey declared, should be removed from the hands of the Workmen's Compensation board, and placed under the direction of the mines branch.

Miners are compelled to wait for compensation cheques, said the speaker, in continuing his attack, which later was directed against the mines examining board whom, Mr. Touhey claimed, was composed of men who had established a closed corporation.

Only three per cent. of miners sitting for first class certificates ever got through. The personnel of the examining board was composed largely of men who received their certificates under the old North-West Territories ordinance without having to pass examinations.

Mr. Touhey claimed that under Liberal government an independent examining board of qualified mining engineers would be set up.

"The Arizonian," the new Richard Dix starring vehicle which opened yesterday at the Empress theatre, where it will continue today and Saturday, brings to the screen the star of "Cimarron" and "West of the Pecos" in one of the strongest roles of his career. For those who love action, Western tradition, or who are patriotically minded, this picture is strongly recommended.

As a prelude to the main feature, there is a dance officer in an Arizona boom town, Dix is seen in a picture which calls for special attention. "The Arizonian" is not to be considered a Western picture, though it has all the action a cowboy film could hope for.

The other picture on the Empress double feature program, "Chasing Yesterday," with Anne Shirley, the star of "Anne of Green Gables."

The old belief that when you go fishing you must never speak above a whisper to your companion is all nonsense, according to zoologists' studies of fish. These scientists say that fish have no external ears of any sort, and cannot hear most sounds which are made outside of the water. They have sensitive parts of their bodies which can respond to vibrations under water but not to sound vibrations outside the water. Of course, a loud noise could set up vibrations in the water sufficient to be registered by slight bruises.

Fusiliers Win Efficiency Cup

Following up their triumphs of 1934, the Edmonton Fusiliers, commanded by Lieut. Col. E. The Fusiliers added to the main triumph by taking first money in the Vickers' gun and Lewis gun competitions.

The present victory marks the third time the Efficiency trophy has been won by the Edmonton company.

CITY LIBERAL CANDIDATES PRESENT NEW DEAL POLICIES

Grand Rally Held In Memorial Hall Thursday Evening

Would Lead Alberta From Morass Into Which U.F.A. Government Had Plunged and Kept It.

Sponsored by the German-Canadian Liberal club and with H. Steurmer, secretary of the club in the chair, a grand Liberal rally was held in the Canadian Legion Memorial Hall on Thursday night, to hear from Liberal candidates in the Edmonton constituency, the policies formulated to give to this province a new deal and to lead it from the "depressive morass into which the U.F.A. government had plunged and kept it."

W. R. Howson, K.C., although not present in person, was heard by the large gathering, as his radio broadcast from 8.45 p.m. until 9 p.m. was brought into the hall.

FIVE CANDIDATES SPEAK

The other five candidates were present and all spoke. First to take the platform was Mrs. Marion Conroy and then followed Jack Marshall, George H. Van Allen, K.C., C. Gerald O'Connor and Dr. Walter Morrish.

Following an exhaustive critical analysis of the Aberhart social credit proposals by Mr. O'Connor, some attempts at heckling were made, but the hecklers were howled down by an audience that was plainly in favor of Mr. O'Connor's conclusions.

Answering one heckler as to why the Liberals did not hold joint meetings with the Aberhart followers, Mr. O'Connor, amid cheers, declared that the Liberals would meet representatives of any party on the same platform.

THREE MAJOR PROBLEMS

Storms of applause greeted the pronouncement of Mr. Van Allen that when the great Liberal conference of provincial premiers with Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King took place, there would be three major problems to be discussed, namely:—

1—Reconstruction of the British North America Act.

2—Opening of trade routes and abolition of destructive tariffs and trade barriers.

3—Reconstruction of financial institutions.

Dr. Morrish wound up the rally in a blaze of enthusiasm, with a rapid-fire declaration that the entire education system of the province should be subjected to thorough investigation.

Charges that the U. F. A. administration was unfairly compromising civil servants by having them, during the election campaign, appear on the same platform with ministers of the government, were made by Dr. Morrish.

"I object," he declared, "to the health department sending out an employee in the constituency of Isidore Goresky, Whitford, to talk health insurance while this campaign is on.

"Also, I notice that Miss Alexander, director of the women's bureau and a public health worker, appeared on the same platform with Hon. George Hoadley at a country meeting. It is

Flies North: Hunt Game With Camera

Dorothy Jane Snyder, 21-year-old daughter of Harry Snyder, Montreal and Chicago oil operator, will spend six weeks flying in the north country covering the Barrens and the Nahanni areas after big game. She left Edmonton this morning for Fort Resolution in a Mackenzie Air Services Ltd. plane piloted by W. R. Leigh Brintnell.

TRAIN HALTED ON NORTH TRIP

Floods continued to hold sway over northern rail traffic operating out of Edmonton Friday.

A Peace River bound N.A.R. despatch which left the city Thursday afternoon, 10 minutes behind schedule, was able to operate only as far as Smith, 35 miles north of Edmonton. Passengers were not sold tickets for points beyond Smith on the north side of the flooding waters of Lesser Slave Lake which have demoralized service on the line since July 29.

Mail will be taken north from Smith by airplane and combined snow and automobile service. Government scows operating over flooded sections of the Peace River highway near Lesser Slave Lake have allowed re-establishment of motor traffic.

Waterways line of the N.A.R. was still without service Friday following a disastrous flood-producing storm on July 29 and 30. An embargo on passenger and freight traffic remained on the line Friday. The Bulletin was informed. It is expected that conditions will not permit its removal until Aug. 15 or 16.

21-YEAR-OLD OIL HEIRESS ON WAY NORTH

Dorothy Jane Snyder To Join Big Game Hunting Expedition

Dorothy Jane Snyder, winsome 21-year-old heiress to the Harry Snyder oil riches of Montreal and Chicago is on her way north for her first big game hunting expedition in the Mackenzie lands of the Nahanni river reaches and the bleak barrens east of Great Slave and Great Bear. Blonde and very attractive, Miss Snyder arrived in the city from Calgary Thursday afternoon and early this morning was winging her way north in a Mackenzie Air Service plane piloted by Leigh Brintnell to join her father at Fort Resolution.

Accompanying her in the plane was H. L. Sackett of Regina, president and managing director of Saskatchewan's Independent Refineries and the Highway Refineries of Alberta.

Her father, Harry Snyder, head of the Champlain Oil Companies mutes from his Montreal offices to his Gold Coast home in Chicago, is heading an aerial tour through the north, which before it is ended will have covered between 6,000 and 8,000 miles.

Snyder will utilize two planes of Mackenzie Air Service with Leigh Brintnell and Stan McMullin pilots, and in addition has a pack train now crawling across the mountains of northern B.C. to meet his big boat proceeding to the juncture of the Liard and Nahanni rivers.

The expedition, equipped with cameras of all types and big game guns, will collect specimens for the Museum of Natural History, New York City and the National Museum at Ottawa.

Miss Snyder's previous experience has been with her father on his ranch 140 miles northwest of Denver where the Colorado, Utah and Wyoming boundaries meet.

TAKING IT COOLLY

Far from being excited over the great expedition, Miss Snyder is taking it all very coolly, believing she is safer in the north than she would be in crossing Chicago's bustling Michigan avenue.

"I am going to do all my big game hunting with a motion picture camera," she confided and hoped that never having operated one before, she would have better luck.

"Daddy has been making these trips into the north now for years," she continued, "and I have always wanted to go along but my enrolment at Northwestern University prevented me from doing so.

"It's my idea of a grand holiday . . . a wonderful experience."

The oil heiress is leaving all her dresses and gowns in Edmonton and will pick them up again when the expedition returns in early October. On the trip she will dress like the men . . . in breeches, heavy wool flannel shirts and mosquito netting-draped helmet.

"I am not even taking any cosmetics along," she laughed, "and when a girl does that, she's taking big game hunting seriously."

"Cooking? I should say not. The men would perish from starvation if they had to depend on my skill with the frying pan," she laughed. "Anyway, Daddy has a cook along with him."

The expedition is probably the most complete that has ever gone north . . . fifty planes by river steamer, a pack train of 40 horses, four guides, a cook, ten canoes and a battery of big game guns.

VISIT TROPICAL VALLEY

Before coming out the party will sally into the tropical valley of Northern British Columbia.

"I am looking forward to boiling a few eggs in the hot springs there," admitted Miss Snyder, despite her avowal that she was going to be the cook.

It will be late in September or early October that a Mackenzie Service's plane lifts the expedition out of the tropical valley and brings it south to Edmonton.

There are no "shortcuts"—people attending the free eye clinic receive the same careful attention that characterizes Jackson Brothers' usual optical examination.

TELEPHONE 21741

Appointments may be made by simply phoning 21741 or by writing Jackson Brothers, 9062 Jasper Ave., Edmonton.

OPEN DAILY, 9 AM TO 6 P.M.

Because of the popularity of these Saturday free eye clinics many people have gained the impression that Jackson Brothers' optical department is open only on Saturdays.

Correcting this impression, a fully-qualified optometrist is on the premises daily from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

A national bureau of educational research to cooperate with dominion and provincial authorities, was approved by the 14th annual conference of the Canadian Teachers' Federation, now in session at Ottawa.

Do you believe the proposal is a good one? The Bulletin's Inquiring Reporter asked.

Replies are given below:

CONSTABLE BOB HUGHES, city police: "I believe this bureau would be of great advantage to the rising generation. Research in the scientific and industrial world is progressing so rapidly that education and educational methods must keep pace if they are to be useful to young people who will be called to fill a place in the quickly changing world. Research in education must be carried on."

* * *

L. B. YULE, B.A., assistant superintendent public schools: "I believe there is a field for valuable work in the organization of such a department. We are at present agencies of educational research in the provinces, such as the University School of Education. All this work could be headed up by a national bureau."

* * *

J. W. JEWETT, juvenile officer, Children's Aid Society: "If a greater amount of research was applied to education, I am quite sure that a large amount of juvenile delinquency would be dealt with before it started. Education is the most important field of study of our modern civilization."

For the purpose of considering Mayor J. A. Clarke's work-at-wages plan, city council's special relief committee will meet at city hall at 7 p.m. Friday. The mayor proposes to put relief men to work at 40 cents an hour on road, boulevard and park improvements.

Giving encouragement to flood sufferers, northern weather was generally clear and calm Friday.

Tenders for the paving of both sides of 101 street from the lane south of the Royal George hotel to the south side of 104 avenue were opened by city commissioners at noon Friday. Those tendering were the Hollister and Construction Co. of Winnipeg, $23,137.70 and the Crown Paving and Construction Co., $22,683.50. Tenders were referred to City Engineer A. W. Haddow for compilation and a report.

Police Court

Failure to retain his self-control under the combined irritation of an aching tooth and a nagging wife cost Frank St. Peter two months' imprisonment in Fort Saskatchewan jail.

He pleaded guilty to charge of assault laid by his wife, Mrs. Florence St. Peter, who said he had pulled her hair, slapped her face and twisted her arms.

"I find it hard to excuse an able bodied man who strikes a woman," Magistrate Gibson said before passing sentence.

Mike Dziwenka was fined $100 for illegal possession of illicit liquor, on testimony of Corporal J. A. Cameron, R.C.M.P., who stated he had found large quantities of "moonshine" in the home of the accused. Similar charge against Joseph Dziwenka was withdrawn. Alvin McLachlan was defence counsel and G. W. Archibald acted for the department of justice.

Facing six charges of uttering forged cheques, in a total amount of about $60, Maurice Tudge and Sydney Thomas Woods elected for summary trial, pleaded guilty and were remanded to November 9 for sentence. Bonds of $500 each were required for their good behavior.

* * *

Process was withdrawn in the charge of negligent driving against Eugene Packet.

* * *

Adjournment to August 21 was given Albert Bonahan, charged with causing bodily harm by negligent driving. The man injured, J. Lorne Turner of Ottawa, is still in hospital.

On a charge of carnal knowledge, laid by Achmed Awid, Charles Joseph was remanded for trial.

MAGISTRATE IS HONORED BY CITY LEADERS

Magistrate Primrose Is Praised for Fearless Impartial Justice

Col. P. C. H. Primrose, recently retired as Edmonton police magistrate, received Friday a communication from the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce complimenting him on his long years of services.

The resolution forwarded to Col. Primrose reads as follows:

"Resolved that the council of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce place on record its sincere appreciation of the long and distinguished services of P. C. H. Primrose as police magistrate of the city of Edmonton, and to express the high esteem and regard of the members of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce for the fearless and impartial conduct that has always marked his administration of justice."

DIESEL ENGINE FOR CARS WILL BE HERE SOON

Expert Sees Mass Production When Demand Sure

While Diesel powered autos are not an immediate possibility, General motors is already planning for their mass production for a future date, it was revealed Friday by R. Wiginton, customer research manager for General Motors who is attending a dealer conference along with other G. M. officials from Toronto and Oshawa, being held in Edmonton Friday.

The Winton engines which powered the Burlington railways streamlined "Zephyr" is a subsidiary of General Motors and the engineers of the company are continuing their research work.

When the time comes, General Motors, said Mr. Wiginton will produce a popular priced airplane for around $700 designed for family use. They will also be ready to turn out Diesel equipped cars which will operate much cheaper than present cars do.

Although the NRA of the United States is dead, its hand is still felt in the motor industry. Co-operating with the U.S. president, General Motors are spreading their 1935 production over several months instead of concentrating on the usual production rush in March.

The Canadian division of General Motors is following this plan and production this year spread over a longer time will absorb more unskilled labor.

The motor men will bow their new models onto the market a month earlier and their national advertising will begin during the fall months.

3 Weddings

WEBBER—STONE

On Saturday, August 3rd, at 3 o'clock the home of Miss Gilchrist in Garneau was the setting for a very pretty wedding when her niece Dorothy Stone became the bride of Dr. W. E. Webber of Lamont. The marriage took place in the drawing-room against a background of delphiniums and other garden flowers. The ceremony was performed by Rev. N. McLeod of Lamont in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends of the families. Very charming in her simple wedding gown of white organza and wearing her mother's wedding veil, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. W. J. Stone. She carried an armful of sweet peas and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Walter Webber who was matron of honor was in maize organdy over green silk with which she wore a wide brimmed green hat and carried sweet peas and snapdragon. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Walter Webber. Little Anne McEachern as flower-girl was sweet in a dainty frilled frock of pink organza. The bride's mother was in navy and gray with corsage of roses. The groom's mother wore black and white with a corsage of deep red roses. Miss Grace Webber of Calgary played the wedding marches and during the signing of the register sang "Because" accompanied by Miss Clara Rothwell. For travelling the bride was smart in a suit of brown and Spanish tile with brown accessories. Dr. and Mrs. Webber left later by motor for a trip in the mountains and on their return will reside in Lamont. K-332-186

Livestock

By Dominion Livestock Branch

EDMONTON STOCKYARDS, Aug. 9—Receipts today: Cattle 195, calves 125 hogs 160, sheep 235.

The quality of the receipts are of a nondescript type, all offerings of good cattle are moving readily at steady prices and salesmen seem to have no difficulty in pricing this class. Prices remain fully steady and firm today. Grain-feds are 50c to $1 higher.

Only a handful of hogs were on offer today and the market was unsteady and tending lower, no sales up till noon, buyers were bidding $8.65 for the trucked-in bacons. The better grades of sheep were moving fairly readily at steady prices. The poorer classes proved decidedly hard to move.

AT WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, Aug. 9.—Receipts were insufficient to establish trading on the livestock market today. Prices were unchanged.

Broomhall

CHICAGO, Aug. 9—Yesterday's reports from the Argentine indicated the first real break in the drought which has gripped the country and as a result markets there and in Liverpool declined sharply. Cables received from our agent early in the day reported moderate rains in Northern Santa Fe and in the section around Rosario. Later these rains were reported to be extending into Entre Rios and Cordoba and moving south. This moisture is undoubtedly most welcome, relieving for the time being at least the extreme dryness of the soil in the northern sections, but further sowing in that part of the country is not thought possible. Trade circles at B. A. believe that the acreage to wheat in Santa Fe and Cordoba will be between 30 and 50 per cent. below last year when these two provinces seeded 7,328,000 acres or approximately 39 per cent. of the country's total area. With the small acreage planted and the very poor start which the crop has received in these northern districts, the outlook is far from favorable and the frequent rains will be needed during the growing season if a semblance of a crop is to be realized. In the southern zone the moisture deficiency is less acute and with favorable conditions from now on fair crops might be gathered. There were no shipments of wheat from Russia during the past week, but these will probably start shortly.

Today's Markets

At Montreal

MONTREAL, Aug. 9—A tone of high irregularity was in evidence at the close of Montreal Stock Exchange today and trading was brisk.

Weakness was noticeable in the textile division where Penman's dropped 1½ to a new low for the year of 46. Dominion Textile slipped ⅛ to 68⅛ while Canadian celanese was off ¼ to 22¾. Canadian Cottons preferred at 95 was down a point.

Among power issues shares Montreal Power held attention. The debentures were up ¼ point to 50½. Montreal Power advanced ⅜ to a new 1935 top of 32⅞.

At Toronto—Industrials

TORONTO, Aug. 9—Distillery stocks steamed up vigorously today on Toronto industrial market, reflecting the buoyancy on the New York board. All interlisted shares did better and the closing price level over the board was up for the day. Walkers common advanced about 1½ to around 29⅜ and Distillers Seagrams closing around 24, had a gain of about ⅜.

Industrial Alcohol "A" picked up ¼ and Brewers and Distillers finished the day unchanged.

At Toronto—Mines

TORONTO, Aug. 9.—A little life was infused into the copper and silver shares when the metals turned strong on New York board in late afternoon but the general performance of the Toronto mining board was somewhat drab.

Base Metals Corporation sold down to 55 on development news. Sherritt also closed slightly lower and Noranda was steady. After selling off to 1.67, Eldorado turned strong and soon advanced to 1.75 but closed lower for a small net gain.

Gains were retained by Hollinger and Pionier in the senior golds while closing prices were slightly off for Wright-Hargreaves, McIntyre and Bralorne.

At New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 9—The stock market shook off its lethargy today and leaped ahead with a vigor that resembled some of the old "boom" sessions.

Merchandise, motor, steel and aircraft issues led the upturn which registered many new highs for the year or longer. The close was strong. It was one of the largest turnovers in several months, transfers approximating 2,225,000 shares.

WHEAT TRADING AT LOW LEVEL

WINNIPEG, Aug. 9—Trading enthusiasm remained at a low ebb on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, operations at times coming to a standstill. Wheat prices closed unchanged, August at 84⅝.

Values held steady throughout one of the quietest sessions in some time, with operators still awaiting an expected announcement from Ottawa, where Premier R. B. Bennett and members of the grain trade are conferring, regarding trading in futures.

Outside markets also were steady, and some support was given local prices by moderate export sales of Canadian wheat.

PATS and PANS by BILL LEWIS

CALGARY tennis fans must have been handed the rudest shock of the year when Mrs. Eustace, defending women's singles champion, was knocked out of the 1935 Alberta titular tournament in her home city yesterday. . . . A highly-rated favorite before the tourney got underway, Mrs. Eustace bowed to the stroking of Ruby Roberts, also of Calgary, in the semi-final round. . . . As a result of this, Mrs. Vic. Johnson, of this city, will be heavily backed to take the crown. . . . She won her way into the finals yesterday.

Just as expected, Harry Kinloch, defending men's open singles titleholder, marched through into the semi-finals of the event on Thursday. . . . Quite a surprise to local tennis followers was the elimination of Walter McIntosh from the Ferris cup singles. . . . He had seemed to be well on his way to bringing the trophy to Edmonton, but failed to come through yesterday's play successfully.

WITH not a day elapsed after his one-round knockout of King Levinsky, the pride of Detroit — Joe Louis — yesterday signed to fight Max Baer in September. . . . The sensational Brown Bomber, hardly over the excitement of polishing off the Kingfish, did not hesitate a bit when offered a contract to battle the ex-heavyweight champion, and, as a result, a fight has been arranged that should attract the greatest assemblage of ring enthusiasts in years, no matter where it is staged. . . . It is a greater attraction from a customer standpoint that any current championship bout could possibly be and should be a wonderful money-maker for all parties concerned.

What the outcome of such a struggle will be is sure to cause a lot of debating between now and September 24. . . . Logic just can't be overlooked in any bets. . . . While Baer will draw a lot of wagering support from those who figured he was not at his best when he lost the title to Jimmy Braddock.

WEBB KING'S Shasta Royals are scheduled for a visit to Wainwright tomorrow, where they tangle with the team in that town in an exhibition contest. . . . In all probability, Shastas will perform on their home lot at Renfrew Park Sunday, with the team to oppose them not yet definitely decided.

Followers of New York Giants were given a jolt yesterday when the lowly Phillies whipped Bill Terry's club in both games of a doubleheader. . . . This left them with a lead of only two games over Chicago's Cubs, who cracked out a 9-5 win over Pittsburgh. . . . Over in the American league, Detroit Tigers increased their margin over New York Yankees by whipping Chicago as the Yanks were losing to Philadelphia Athletics.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 9.—Chief Little Wolf of Trinidad, Colo., scored a decisive two fall victory over Andre Adoree, the fighting Frenchman from Montreal, in their return bout on the main event of last night's wrestling card.

E.C.D. SQUAD IS DEFEATED

Army and Navy Girls gained sole possession of second place in the City Girls' Baseball league last night when they edged out a 5-4 decision over the E.C.D. club in a 10-inning encounter at Boyle Street.

Vicky Wynnyk's timely single, aided by two errors to "Peg" Bailey and Mary Hughes in the extra session, paved the way for the store girls' triumph.

Irma Blake played a big part in the A. & N. win, by holding the opposition to three scattered hits.

Defending Ladies' Champ Loses to Provide Real Upset

CALGARY, Aug. 9—Mrs. Vic Johnson of Edmonton entered the final of the Women's Open Singles in the provincial tennis tournament here on Thursday when she scored over Mrs. Jimmy Johnson of Calgary.

Harry Kinloch, of Edmonton, defending champion in the men's open singles, entered the semi-final by a 6-0, 6-3 win over the hard-sledding, indefatigable and ubiquitious Ernie Anderson.

The most spectacular feature of the tournament to date was the defeat of the defending champion in the women's open singles, Mrs. C. T. Eustace of this city, who lost in the semi-final to Ruby Roberts also of this city, at 2-6, 12-11, 7-5.

McINTOSH LOSES.

Edmonton's hopes of winning the Ferris Cup all but went a-glimmering on Thursday when Walter McIntosh was defeated by Hugh Boucher of Calgary in the pre rights. Boucher winning at 6-3, 8-10, 6-2.

The Ferris Cup has not been won by an Edmontonion since 1932 and the only hope of it travelling north this year rests on the shoulders of blonde Roger Waters, who is now in the semi-finals.

In entering the semi-final, Kinloch displayed near-top form and was going at one spectator pipe it "like a house on fire." Ernie Anderson, former Selkirk, Eskimo and Calgary Tiger hockey star was in rare form, but his soft game could one stand against the raking drives off both wings that Kinloch flashed across the net.

SEMI-FINAL LINEUP.

Kinloch plays Bill Stark in one semi-final while Doug. Gunn, Calgary champ, and George McFadzean, Stettler, meet in the other.

McFadzean-Forhan entered the final of the men's doubles with their opponents not yet out to the line.

Mrs. Vic Johnson won her final bracket when, in the first set of her semi-final against Mrs. Jimmy Johnson, she was leading 2-1 in the second set the latter slipped, injuring her ankle, which forced her to default.

Defeat of Andersen-Costello, Calgary doubles champs, was a feature of the day.

OTHER RESULTS:

Stark def. Bailey, 6-3, 6-4.
Gunn def. Johnson 6-3, 2-6, 8-4.
McFadzean-Forhan def. Costello-Anderson 6-2, 1-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.
Waters def. Shone, (Ferris Cup) 6-0, 9-7.
Miss Costello def. Helen Weide, 6-3, 7-5. (Secondary women's singles)
Hood def. Gilfen 6-2, 6-4 (Secondary).

Champ Goes Down

Tony Canzoneri, veteran ringster and lightweight champion of the world, down for a count of two in the sixth round of his fight with Bobby Pacho in Mills Stadium, Chicago. CRUSH GIRLS BEAT CAMROSE

Illuminate Golf Links for Final

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 9.—Automobile headlights were called into service here last night to supply illumination for a trio of young club wielders, battling to break a tie for the Canadian intermediate golf championship. Archie Grimsditch, Toronto, was ultimately returned the winner, but not until he had been carried to 10 extra holes by Charles Keene of London.

ANNUAL SWIM GALA OPENING HERE TONIGHT

Alberta Championships to be Contested During Three-day Meet

High spot of the swimming season of this city, the second annual three-day gala of provincial championship competition opens tonight at 8:15 o'clock at the South Side pool, in Riverside park at the foot of the 105 street steps.

Championships of the province will be contested in ladies' 50 yards and 440 yards, ladies' fancy diving and men's 100 yards events.

Swimmers whose performances have established them in the front ranks of the sport will be contesting the laurels.

The ladies' 440 yards championship will be defended by Mary McConkey, who is now in the forefront of Canada's swimmers and who will likely represent this country in the next Olympics.

Fancy diving, which always has provided thrills, will be contested by the foremost springboard artists of the province, the title at present being held in Calgary.

Joe Louis Signed Battle Maxie Baer Late In September

Promoter Mike Jacobs is Undecided on Venue of Big Bout

By PAUL MICKELSON

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Joe Louis will throw his next assortment of fistic bombs at the chin and frame of the former heavyweight king, Max Baer.

Less than 24 hours after he had scored his 24th consecutive ring triumph by smashing King Levinsky into a helpless hulk here Wednesday night, the sensational brown bomber from Detroit was signed by Promoter Mike Jacobs to tangle with the Livermore Larruper at either New York or Chicago the night of September 28 or 27.

THREE ALTERNATIVES

Jacobs, one of the shrewdest promoters in the game, had three alternatives. He could stage the fight in Chicago under the sponsorship of the sporting club of Illinois, a newly organized group composed of wealthy Chicago sportsmen; he could run it at New York, probably at the Polo grounds, under the sponsorship of the Twentieth Century Club of which he is promoter; or he could step out and do it himself, the latter possibility was remote, however.

However, if the fight was staged at Chicago, it would be held at either Soldier Field, scene of the Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney spectacle of 1927, or at the White Sox ball park which could be arranged to seat 70,000 to 75,000.

"I intend to hold the bids open for 10 days," Jacobs said.

LOUIS ELATED

Louis, who in slightly more than a year has battered his way to become a dangerous contender for the title held by Jimmy Braddock, was elated with the news of the signing.

"I'll fight anywhere," he said. "I'll lick Baer just as easily as I licked the others."

Ancil Hoffman, manager for Baer said he didn't care where the fight was staged and that he was confident Baer could whip the menacing negro challenger.

Madison Square Garden's option on Baer expired last midnight. It was only a few hours later that Jacobs had the necessary papers signed for the Baer-Louis match.

Leads Marksmen

POINTE AUX TREMBLES, Que., Aug. 9.—Sergeant C. GLASGOW, Aug. 9.— Scottish soccer clubs are optimistic regarding the 1935-36 season which opens Saturday. Economic conditions have continued to improve since the beginning of the year when better attendances were reflected in the balance sheets of the various clubs. Directors hope for bigger "gates" than for many years.

Glasgow Rangers, champions and cup-holders, who meet Arbroath, newcomers to first division football, on Saturday at Ibrox park, have made practically no change in their personnel. On their record of last year they will again play a big part in the coming campaign.

Celtic, rival of Rangers for years, has disappointed its supporters for some time and this year presents a revamped team.

Golf Champs Will Be Declared Today In City Tournament

Mrs. Lowe Is to Oppose Miss Norma Cox In Final Match

Two hard-fought semi-final matches yesterday served as the means to bring Mrs. H. A. Lowe and Miss Norma Cox together today in the final 18-hole round to decide Edmonton's woman golf champion for the ensuing year.

Playing over the course of Edmonton Golf and Country Club Thursday, Mrs. Lowe defeated Mrs. Hardisty by a score of 3 and 2 to gain her place in the last bracket, while Miss Cox took possession of the remaining position by beating out Mrs. T. Vickers on the 19th hole of their semi-final match.

There was never a time during the Lowe-Hardisty game in which the first-named was ever looking back. She moved into a one-up lead in the out-going nine of the match and then clinched matters by the time they reached the 16th hole.

WAS REAL BATTLE

Miss Cox, on the other hand, had a much harder struggle on her hands to eliminate Mrs. Vickers in the second semi-final. The latter player had a great chance to clinch the match when, after being all square at the 18th hole, she won the 17th, and needed only a half to take the verdict. A par three by Miss Cox on the 18th hole, though, was too good for her, and another par four on the extra hole gave the mates to the Highlands' star.

The cards in the semi-finals follow:

Mrs. Lowe, out	555	435	856—48
Mrs. Hardisty, out	666	436	454—45
Mrs. Lowe, in		455	646 4
Mrs. Hardisty, in		464	856 5
Miss Cox, out	545	353	565—43
Mrs. Vickers, out	555	457	455—45
Miss Cox, in	356	585	673 4—48
Mrs. Vickers, in	275	655	344 5—46

BRONZE FINALISTS

Final of the "bronze" section of the championships will see Mrs. John Michaels opposing Mrs. Jamieson. Mrs. Michaels was carried to an extra hole in the semi-finals by Mrs. Barton before winning out.

Mrs. Downes, given a close run for her coin by Mrs. Gatrell, finally won on the 17th green by a margin of 2 and 1.

Mrs. H. McPherson, of Edmonton Golf and Country Club, will meet Mrs. A. R. McPherson, of the Highlands, in the first flight final of the bronze division. The former gained the final bracket by winning over Mrs. C. Roberts, of the Country Club, while Mrs. A. R. McPherson defeated Mrs. Fricker, of Prince Rupert club.

Mrs. Dryden, of the Highlands, defeated Mrs. Cairns, of Municipal, and Mrs. Huckell of Country Club, beat Miss Hilling, of Highlands, to enter the final of the bronze consolation flight.

Out of a list of 40 entries, Mrs. Michaels and Mrs. F. J. Wolfe, of Mayfair, won the two-ball low net event, with a score of 71.

Finals in all flights will be played this afternoon, starting with the silver division final at 2 p.m. The others will follow at five-minute intervals.

Softball

Grierson Service made it two out of three wins over the S. S. Athletics last night when they walked off with an 8 to 4 victory. It was a loosely played game with the South 8ft making no less than six errors in the six innings played. Grierson won the game on these errors as they were able to collect only four safe hits but these hits on top of so many errors were enough to turn the game in their favor. Grierson went on a scoring splurge in the third inning whitch netted them six runs and tied up the old ball game good and tight.

Hears Of No Vet Cut Off Relief

Denial that any veteran single man had been "cut off relief" because of the political views was made Thursday morning by Paddy Griffin, first vice president of the Ex-Service Men's Association, who also handles all grievances of the single ex-service men.

"We have never experienced any difficulty with the relief commission over the political views of any of our comrades, and nor have we had any difficulty over politics within the Ex-Service Men's Association. The Ex-Service Men's Association is non-political," he said.

Prisoners Moved Here From South

Due to crowded conditions in the Lethbridge jail caused by recent mass arrests of rod-riders in the south, 27 transients arrested in Calgary this week will be brought to the provincial jail at Fort Saskatchewan. Serving terms of from 14 days to two months, the traveling prisoners will leave Calgary under guard in two busses Friday morning.

Over-crowded conditions at Lethbridge jail at present are due to a drive on rod-riders and the situation is only a temporary one, stated Homer P. Keith, deputy minister of public works, Friday.

ARDEA BACK IN NATIVE SWAMPLAND

WINNIPEG, Aug. 9—Sick and tired of city life, Ardea Herodias, a slim blond, was back in her native swamp country last night and vowed never to return.

How she came to be there, no one knows, but Ardea was picked up on a hot, dusty Winnipeg pavement the other day. She quickly attracted a crowd, and didn't like it.

She showed her displeasure by clapping a bystander, and when a policeman came along took a pass at him, too. Joe Davis, a suburbanite, solved the problem temporarily by taking Ardea home with him.

But even at Joe's home Ardea wasn't satisfied. She wouldn't eat. She pined for the country and couldn't be comforted.

So Thursday Ardea was taken by automobile into the country, back to her home. She wandered over the mud of the Red River and, quick as lightning, snapped up a juicy, green frog. For Ardea is a young blue heron and simply loves frogs, crabs and tiny fish.

DR. CAMSELL AT WRANGELL

WRANGELL, Alaska, Aug. 9—The compass which guided Sir Francis Younghusband in his explorations of the forbidden land of Tibet has been guiding Dr. Charles Camsell, Canadian deputy minister of mines, in his search for the northern tip of the Rocky Mountains, it was announced here Thursday.

Dr. Camsell arrived by plane last Wednesday, and proceeded again en route to explore the Cassiar "blind spot" on the backbone of North America, and determine if the Canadian Rockies "punch out" where the Liard river cuts its way across northern British Columbia, or whether the Mackenzie ranges, beyond, are a part of the true cordillera.

While waiting for the weather to clear for his flight to the Cassiar, Dr. Camsell revealed that his most prized possession was the compass given him by the famed Tibetan explorer.

Although the lineup for the five singles and two doubles matches will not be revealed until the draw on Wednesday, it was certain that Miss Jacobs would draw the No. one singles assignment and also would play doubles.

The British team, which arrived here Tuesday, has been practicing at Forest Hills.

Two Almost Naked White Men Match Wits With Nature

TACOMA Wash., Aug. 9.— Two almost naked white men were matching their wits against nature in the wilds of the Olympic peninsula on a bet today.

The two, Tommy Vittos, 23, and Graham Ring, 19, planned to live off nature for an entire month on a $200 wager of a merchant that they would be unable to do it.

They were wearing trunks and gym shoes and each carried a cigar lighter, which will be used to start fires, a fish line and a hunting knife when they went into the timber last night. Cougar and bear are plentiful in the area.

Grand Rally Held In Memorial Hall Thursday Evening

built up in this city a medical oligarchy and the individuals concerned have gotten bow-legged carrying money to the banks.

"I protest. I think the civil servants should be given protection at election time and not used politically."

Turning his attention to educational matters, Dr. Morrish declared that "every boy and girl should have equal educational opportunities and only brain capacity should be a determining factor."

WARM TRIBUTE PAID

Warm tribute was paid by Dr. Morrish to the officials of the education department. "We are fortunate in having men of their calibre in the department," he said, "men who understand the system from A to Z, but who are undoubtedly handicapped by the elected representatives of the people in the government."

Thorough probe of the University of Alberta was advocated by Dr. Morrish.

"Personally I am not satisfied with such long vacations for the professors and other members of the teaching staff. In this day and age I feel that we could use their services to better advantage than in long vacations. Also, the expensive professional schools turning out doctors, dentists and lawyers might be investigated. After all, this is an agricultural province and our first duty should be to educate our people in the basic industry of the province."

Touching on social credit, Dr. Morrish declared that Major C. H. Douglas, the originator of social credit, disclaimed any relationship with the Aberhart proposals.

In his critical analysis of the Aberhart proposals, Mr. O'Connor impressed the audience with a quotation from a recent utterance of Sir Josiah Stamp, one of the leading world economists.

WARNED ABOUT "PERIL"

Sir Josiah, declared Mr. O'Connor had no interest in Alberta politics. Yet he warned about the "peril" of the Aberhart proposals and hoped that the good sense and good judgment of the Alberta people would direct them to reject it when polling day came.

Mr. O'Connor subscribed thoroughly to the contention that the Aberhart proposals were nothing but a gigantic taxation scheme. The promise of payment of $25 a month or a total of $120,000,000 a year sounded very attractive, he said, but that amount, whether it be in cash or credit, had to come from somewhere.

COME FROM ALBERTA

"It will not come from British Columbia, or Saskatchewan or from the 50 big shots of the east," he said. "It will come from the people of this province and we will be the ones who will have to pay."

Some topical advice on the system of voting in the city was given by Jack Marshall, who said that he wanted to warn the voters against spoiled ballots. First of all, though, he pointed out that the electors had the Liberal platform before them, and they knew it reflected the ideas of the people of the province. There, for he asked them to get to work to elect the Liberal candidates in the city.

"And what will happen after we are elected?" asked Mr. Marshall. "The Liberal platform is before you and will be carried out as a result of the legislation we propose will put dollars into your pockets."

BALANCE BUDGET

He pointed out that if the legislation proposed was carried out it will have to be done with the taxpayers' money, and to secure that the Liberals had to put their business of government on a sound basis by balancing the budget.

"We will refund our indebtedness on a lower rate of interest," said Mr. Marshall, "and by doing that it means just that less amount of money going out of the province."

The Liberal party had been the chance of a century, as for the first time since confederation there was the chance to put in a Liberal government all over the Dominion, and with Liberal governments in power there was no excuse for not putting their policies in force.

DEAL WITH MR. LYMBURN

G. H. Van Allen, K.C., announced to the audience that at the Liberal rally on Thursday next it is his intention to deal particularly with the record of Mr. Lymburn and the government from 1927 to 1934 and to show where he has failed.

Proceeding, Mr. Van Allen stated that he had been spending some time in the country having visited five constituencies. One impression gained is the tremendous respect for Mr. Howson, the Liberal leader.

"I think that we here, who know Mr. Howson so well," said Mr. Van Allen, "do not appreciate the fact that he is not only a leader in the province but also one of the leaders of the whole country. We must not overlook his election here."

Mr. Van Allen then proceeded to deal with the Liberal proposal to refund the provincial debt at a lower rate of interest for the purpose of reducing taxation. He drew attention to the tremendous increase in the provincial debt from 31 millions when the Liberals went out in 1922, to 144 millions at the present time under the U.F.A. administration. This represented more than the whole Dominion debt in 1878. In 1922 the provincial debt called for payments in interest of 22 per cent of the provincial revenue of eight-and-a-half millions, whereas now it called for 45 per cent of a revenue of 13 millions annually.

"The province has to lay out nearly half of its total revenue in payment of interest alone," said the speaker.

He accused the government of having ruined the credit of the province, and said this was shown by the fact it cost 6.76 to place the last provincial debenture issue on the market, a charge which will go upon the shoulders of the whole of the next generation.

He contrasted this with the fact that within a year of this issue Mr. Hepburn, the Liberal premier of Ontario had sold a refunding issue at 3.09.

This illustration, said Mr. Van Allen, is just what is meant by refunding.

Reform of this kind is real and tangible and it is just what the Liberal party stands for.

WOODSWORTH WOULD CURB ALL BANKING

Says C.C.F. Pledged To Program of Government Economy

BRANDON, Aug. 9—The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation was pledged to a program of government economy including centralized control of all banking and public utilities J. S. Woodsworth, party leader declared here last night.

"It is time we got away from fear of names and party slogans," the C.C.F. chief declared at a large meeting here tonight. He challenged the Liberal and Conservative parties to show reason why they had not instituted reforms during the periods in which they held power.

PETTY REFORMS

"The party under Premier R. B. Bennett had brought in the most pitiable program of petty reforms," he asserted. "The Liberals are the most stand-pat body in Canada."

"Premier Bennett appeared as a startling prophet of social reform in his radio addresses last January," Mr. Woodsworth declared, "yet he had done nothing constructive in the succeeding months.

"New factories, railways, and highways are not needed since Canada is filled with present equipment, produce three times as much. An expanding market, as we knew it in the early days of capitalism is gone."

QUESTIONS GUARANTEE

He questioned the government guarantee of Canadian Pacific Railway bonds to the extent of $80,000,000 without giving the house the facts.

VICTORIA, Aug. 9—Edward Haut, 13, was drowned in the Gorge Narrows Thursday when a canoe in which he was paddling, overturned in the swift current. It is believed that Haut became exhausted while giving aid to a companion who was rescued.

SUN-TAN

By Nard Jones

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JO DARIEN, preparing to return home after her first year in college, receives a letter telling her that her father is out of work. Jo decides to hunt for a job. Next day she moves to a cheap furnished apartment. Her former roommate, TUBBY DAVIS, and BRET PAUL, to whom Jo is engaged, come to see her. Bret shows Jo an advertisement for a girl to work part time in a marine supply house.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER III

JO and Tubby and Bret did full justice to the food. When all last. Bret leaned back in his chair with a contented sigh and procured a package of cigarets there was little left on the table but the paper containers and the modest tableware Joe had found in the kitchenette.

"Tubby," Jo said, "I don't know what I'll do without you this summer. I simply couldn't have managed myself outside for dinner."

"I don't want to take all the credit," Tubby told her. "It was partly Bret's idea."

Bret looked at Jo through the gray haze of cigaret smoke. "And now I think Tubby and I ought to be skipping back to the campus. You'll need a full night's rest in preparation for tomorrow."

And truly enough Jo found herself quite ready to go again when Tubby and Bret had gone. She was so weary that she had only her bag brought up from the luggage room, and in the space of a very few minutes she had donned blue pajamas left a call at the desk for seven o'clock, and climbed between the sheets.

When she was awakened the usually dingy room was bright with early morning June sunshine, and as Jo rummaged in her bag for her toilet kit she astonished herself by breaking into a song. Really, it wasn't so bad to be up early on one's own, to be facing the world with only your two hands and your brain. Especially when the morning was as bright as this one!

On the table was the newspaper Bret had left, folded at the advertisement he'd advised her to follow up. When she had dressed, Jo tore the little triangle of printing and shoved it into the pocket of her suit. She still felt confident, somehow, that she was going to be successful in getting this job. She had a "hunch" about it—and "hunches weren't too often wrong."

She stopped for breakfast at a little coffee shop in the same block as the Fendale, and when she had finished she inquired about the address of her prospective job.

"Oh, that's right near here," the counter said. "Just turn to the right at the next block down, and then walk about four blocks."

Jo thanked her, glad indeed that the distance didn't call for carfare. The advance rent at the Fendale had left her very little money. And Jo was determined that she would not appeal again to her parents for help. "And if I get this place," she thought, "I can walk to work. That would be fortunate—and healthy."

When she reached the proper block it took her some little time to locate the address, but at last she found it, and her heart sank. It was not a very prepossessing establishment. What it sold was hardly anything more than a small store room with rather a narrow door and over the front was a weathered sign which read "Brown's Marine Supply Company." In the tiny show window there were a few coils of rope, some brass boat-hardware quite unfamiliar to Jo, and a model of a sailing ship. But in the store itself she saw two small, sleek mahogany runabout motorboats set on blocks.

She tried the door and found it locked, and she was staring disconsolately at the ship model when a rather gruff voice startled her.

"Well, you're early, anyhow."

She turned to see a short, middle-aged man peering at her near-sightedly. He fished in his hip pocket for a ring of keys, selected one and proceeded to open the door.

"Did you come in answer to this ad in the paper?"

"Yes," Jo said. "I'm Jo Darien—well, I'd like to work for you."

He looked at her quizzically. "Oh, you would, would you?"

At this question Jo became not at all sure that she would. But she remembered Bret's words: "Of course, it's only half-time—but it'll help you keep your chin up, and it will give you the afternoons to look for something else."

"I'm Brown," the man said. "Owner and proprietor. Come on in."

Jo followed him through the store, and into a tiny back compartment which could hardly be called an office.

"You look pretty young," Brown said, eyeing her again with a lot out of a fly-specked globe he had turned on. "Had any experience keeping books?"

"A little. When I was in high school I used to help my father with the accounts in his store sometimes."

Brown nodded. "Well, my system isn't complicated at all. You know this is only a half-time job, don't you?"

He dropped his business-like tone and smiled engagingly. "You're new here, aren't you?"

"Yes, I do. But I'm hoping that business will be so good this summer that you'll need me all the time."

Facing this remark, and Jo's friendly smile the gruff Mr. Brown thawed a little at last. He looked at her sharply for a moment, and then began to chuckle. "Well, maybe you'll be all right. Can you start this morning?"

"I certainly can. That is if—what do you pay, Mr. Brown?"

"Remember this is just part-time. You come to work at 8:30 in the morning. No stone getting here at early as you did today. And you work until 12. The girl I had last summer I paid $8 a week."

Jo's heart sank to the very bottom of her brogues. Eight dollars a week! Why that would barely cover her rent at the Fendale, and she didn't have the slightest idea where she could find a place that was cheaper.

"I'd like to take it, Mr. Brown," she told him. "But—you see, I'm absolutely without help from anyone else, and I just couldn't pay rent and buy food for $8 a week."

Mr. Brown grunted. "It really isn't a job for a girl that's not living at home. I ought to find some girl that just wants to pick up a little extra money."

"But that kind of girl doesn't need a job desperately—like I do," said Jo. "If you have to have help, at all you ought to be willing to pay for it."

She waited for the storm of abuse she felt sure would come; but Mr. Brown remained silently meek. At last he said, "I'll pay you $10 a week. That's satisfactory, because I'm expecting things to be better this summer. And if there's a lot for you to do on the work, we'll make it $12."

"Very well," said Jo, removing her jaunty beret. "I'll take it."

"Good!" Mr. Brown reached into his battered desk and brought out a sheaf of papers. "These here are charge slips for the past month or so. I haven't had a chance to enter them. They go into this account book here, and then of course we send out monthly statements." He produced another huge ledger book, blew a coating of dust from it. "You see, I run a lot of manufacturers of boat engines and equipment and the like. Do you know anything about boats?"

Jo's heart sank again. "N-no."

"Well, that's all right. You'll pick up the terms after a while. Learning the difference between a propeller shaft and a stern bearing won't be half as hard as piecing out my writing!" He chuckled.

* * *

Jo found it hard going that first morning. Brown didn't have much of a system, and during the winter when he had no assistance his office work fell into considerable confusion. But as the hours wore on, and Jo began to make a little progress, she decided she could handle the work satisfactorily. And in the back of her head there kept beating the uncomfortable thought that $40 a month would leave her precious few dollars for food, nothing for clothes and amusement—and nothing at all to send to her mother and father.

"Still," she told herself, "it's $40 more than I was making yesterday and maybe I can find something else to do afternoons."

At 11:30 Mr. Brown shuffled into the little cubicle and asked Jo how she was making out.

"Fine, I think. I'll be faster when I get used to the work."

"Sure. I go out to lunch at 11:30. I just take half an hour, and you can watch the place. If anybody comes in ask 'em to wait a while."

When he was gone Jo could not help smiling. Only job-hunters in answer to the ad had been in all morning, and she saw no reason why she should expect anybody to come between 11:30 and 12. She didn't realize of course that Mr. Brown's business was largely a summer trade and that the season had hardly begun.

He had indeed gone only a few minutes when she heard the door open and looked up to see a tall man walking down toward the office. He was, Jo saw, smartly and quietly dressed, and there was an assurance in the way he carried a stick. When he reached the little office and raised his hat Jo thought him and suddenly, that he was quite the handsomest man she had ever seen.

"How do you do," he said. "Is Mr. Brown in?"

"He'll return in just a few minutes," Jo replied. "And I'm sure he'll want you to wait."

"Thanks—but I can see a man in this block, and then I'll come back."

"Yes, I'll be [illegible]

Suddenly he dropped his business-like tone and smiled engagingly. Jo guessed his age to be about 37 or 38, but when he smiled she couldn't be at all sure. "You're new here, aren't you?" he asked.

Jo nodded. "I came to work for Mr. Brown this morning," she said briefly.

"He's somewhat crusty on occasion, but he's really the salt of the earth. Will you tell him, please, that Douglas Marsh was in?"

"Yes, Mr. Marsh, I'll tell him."
